

Pickets resume Friday; no new date for school talks

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Negotiators met with a federal mediator again last night but failed to resolve this week's strike by Granite City teachers. Faculty workshops have been rescheduled for tomorrow, with students to report Tuesday following the Labor Day holiday.

If there is an insufficient turnout at the workshops Friday, they will be reset for next week. Postponing them automatically postpones pupil attendance, which will begin the day after the workshops.

"WE PUT ALL of our proposals on the table last night and the teachers' negotiating team rejected our offer," Supt. Frank Kraus said. The bargaining lasted about two hours, from 7:30 to 9:30.

"We will resume picketing tomorrow," Mrs. Shirley Stoll, union president, told the Press-Record today. "We could not accept the offer. The mediator will decide on the next meeting date."

Teachers will assemble tonight for an update on the four-day-old dispute over terms of a new contract. The previous pact expired Aug. 14.

THE BOARD of Education will decide Saturday whether to include an education fund tax on the Nov. 6 ballot. A working cash fund bond issue was certified by the district and county this week for the Nov. 6 election.

Supt. Kraus said teachers are to report to their individual buildings for the workshops, principals will be in charge of the semester-opening programs.

If most do not appear, Kraus said, he will postpone Friday's workshops to Tuesday and continue making day-to-day decisions. In that way, parents will have an extra day to learn when students are to attend, classes will start the day after workshops take place.

SHORT $7.9 MILLION. School District Nine cannot market bonds on a Nov. 6 referendum if it unbalances the budget by increasing its 1984-85 costs, the Board of Education was told Tuesday night.

With the Teachers Local 743 bargaining committee present at the board session, Don M. Lindberg, vice president, municipal bond department, Blunt, Ellis & Loewi, Inc., described the financial outlook as dark even if voters approve a $6.6 million working cash fund bond issue.

BOARD MEMBER DEWEY Melton noted that the district's short-term debt interest payments will exceed $900,000 this year. Estimating that the district needs about $5 million to get out of debt, he urged increasing the long-term bond plan to that amount.

Lindberg acknowledged that $6.6 million is insufficient but said that figure is the most the school system can obtain for the working cash fund at this time.

Pointing out that a 30-cent education fund tax rate hike would provide an extra $750,000 yearly, Melton next proposed including that as a second ballot question Nov. 6.

HIS MOTION DIED for lack of a second but the topic can be considered again when the board meets at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 4. Ballot planning must be completed by Sept. 6.

Board Pres. David Partney commented that a two-item ballot might prompt voters to react negatively.

Nippon execs tour GC Steel

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

In a four-hour whirlwind tour of Granite City Steel Monday afternoon, top officials of Nippon Kokan K.K. met the people and studied the equipment which make Granite City Steel one of the most modern and productive plants in America.

Eleven Kokan officials, including Kokan President Minoru Kanoo, visited under heavy security to toast the firm's purchase of half of National Steel Corp., including the Granite City Steel plant. Joining them in the toasts and the tour were Howard M. "Pete" Love, chairman of the board of National Intergroup, Inc., parent company of National Steel, and Robert McBride, president of National Steel.

THE TOASTS were real, as William Swanson, vice president and general manager of GCS, had the guests and GC Steel officials

Cyclist, 17, killed and passenger injured

Phillip E. Pryor, 17, of 4913 Willow Lane, was killed while riding a motorcycle at 8:36 p.m. Tuesday on Chain of Rocks Road, five-tenths of a mile east of Route 3.

Mr. Pryor, who would have started his senior year at Granite City High School this fall, was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Morton at 9:30 p.m.

A passenger on the cycle, Michelle D. Freeman, 16, of 4012 Laura Drive, Pontoon Beach, was injured. She was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where her condition was stable Wednesday.

According to the Illinois State Police, Mr. Pryor's motorcycle struck the rear of a tractor-trailer truck which was turning off Chain of Rocks Road into a garage area.

Driver of the truck, James E. Cash, 55, of Lyons, Ill., was not injured. There were no citations issued, the ISP spokesman said.

Deputy Coroner Edward Besserman of Granite City, who also was at the scene after the accident, said both the motorcycle and truck were headed in an easterly direction at the time of the accident.

Funeral arrangements and survivors may be found in today's obituary column.

Lotto man heightens as drawing nears

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

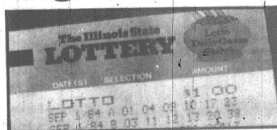

Twice the week of the lottery
And all through the state
The people had lined up
To dream and to wait
Cards were all marked
By each person with care
In hopes that the choices
Would produce millionaires
These hopefuls placed cards
In each machine slot
While visions of fortunes
Danced with each "dit and dot."

Despite temperatures surpassing the 100-degree mark this week, the Illinois State Lottery ticket sales continue briskly and the Lotto Grand Prize hit $32 million and is still growing. The latter increase seemed to mean more to the crowds of people braving the heat and lining up outside quick shops, supermarkets and liquor and drug stores in the Quad-City area to guess which six numbers would be the winning numbers drawn Saturday.

A random check with several lottery agents confirmed that sales are brisk, and that many of their customers are crossing the Mississippi River to play the Lotto.

"We had a two-and-a-half hour wait earlier today," Super One Stop employee, Richard Jagodowicz commented. The shop, located at Route 3 and West Chain of Rocks Road, is accommodating Lotto ticket purchasers from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily. "We had a couple people spending $200," he added.

But a check with customers standing outside the shop Tuesday afternoon produced no such big spenders.

John Saffo of Ferguson, Mo., said he is spending $20 on tickets this week, which is $5 more than he usually spends. Saffo says he picked the numbers on 14 of his tickets and used the Quick Pick method (where the computer selects the numbers) on the remaining six.

Dave Kulker of St. Charles, Mo., said he, also, picked his own numbers and was using some Quick Pick, but some of the numbers he picked are birthdays and numbers "that crop up as winning numbers more often than others."

Kulker said he planned to spend his usual amount of $5 on Lotto tickets this week, but he also was buying tickets for friends. "I opened my big mouth," he joked.

Irene Henke, also of the St. Louis area, said she was buying about $15 worth of Lotto tickets, slightly more than she usually purchases. Asked if she supports a move in Missouri to establish a state lottery, she answered, "I always said Missouri should have one. The money should go to nursing homes and hospitals that care for children."

If Dale Woodard, who traveled from St. Ann, Mo., to Reese Drug Store at 3216 N. Meeker Road to buy his tickets, won the $32 million, he says he would "buy a six-pack and think about it. I'd definitely seek professional financial advice, disconnect my telephone and take a week's vacation unannounced."

Woodard hopes to hit the winning number combination with a $4 purchase, "just like every week."

Claudia Howze of Venice said her $7 purchase at Reese Drug Store was unusual since she normally doesn't play Lotto, but if she won, she would "leave here. I'd probably make an investment."

Eldon Hahn of Granite City would make an investment, too, in the form of a contribution to his church. But the first thing he says he'd do is "quit work."

As far as the final grand prize pot, predictions ranged from $36 million to $40 million. Even at its present $32 million mark, this week's grand prize total is the highest ever offered in a North American lottery. The winner or winners of that money will be determined in a drawing at 7 p.m. Saturday.

The lines are all long,
The odds out of sight,
But good luck to all
On Saturday night.

Labor Day parade here on Monday

Monday's Labor Day Parade, sponsored by the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, has been designated as "D" Day of Solidarity. The co-chairmen for this year's event are Trades and Labor Council President Ed Reineke and United Steelworkers of America Local 4004 President David J. Kins. Both predict that this year's parade will be even more successful than last year's.

THIS YEAR'S parade route will be changed, with the parade starting in the 1900 block of Edison Avenue in downtown Granite City to enable participating groups to utilize the banks' parking lots for assembly.

Participants are to line up between 8 and 10 a.m. Monday, with the parade getting underway at 10 a.m. The parade will proceed to Niedringhaus Avenue, then east on Madison Avenue to 28th Street, where it will turn north and proceed

Leadership program offered for youths

One of the greatest problems facing young people today is drug and alcohol abuse. This problem is compounded by the peer pressure they experience.

Peer Leadership training addresses both of these issues by providing to the youth the adequate training and education needed to make better decisions in their life.

Piasa Health Care's Peer Leadership Program is designed to help young people help other young people by teaching selected high school students communication and leadership skills. The rationale for this approach is that most youth in need of information or direction will turn to their peers rather than talk to an adult.

Turning to peers for guidance seems to be safer for them, but it often results in erroneous information and poor advice. Training selected youth in peer leadership skills will provide more accurate information to more youth.

Ten to fifteen students will be selected to participate in the 1984-1985 Peer Leadership Program. Selection will be based upon their commitment to attend all sessions of the two semester program, their leadership potential, and parental consent.

With the training, the peer leaders will be able to conduct one on one listening sessions with their peers; serve as youth staff for Region IV Operation Snowball, Operation Snowflake and Project Avalanche; assist in the development and implementation of prevention projects, and co-facilitate the Peer Rap Group along with an adult professional counselor.

The training sessions will be offered on Wednesdays from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. at Piasa Health Care's Collinsville Satellite Office. The first session of the Peer Leadership Program training will be on September 19. Communication skills will be covered in semester one of the training. Drug education, self concept development, values clarification, and other issues will be covered in the advanced training during semester two.

High school students who are interested in the program may contact Debra Bozzardi at Piasa Health Care, 345-5200, no later than August 24.

SERVED GC WARRANT

Kerry D. Trobaugh, 24, of 3215 Maryville Road, was arrested at the rear of K-Mart Discount Store, 3655 Nameoki Road, late last week on an active warrant alleging deceptive practices. He was released after posting at $202 cash bond, pending a court appearance.

CHARGE FAIRMONT CITY MAN WITH RESISTING

Upon spotting a car allegedly being operated without headlights or taillights late last week, an officer halted the vehicle in the 2600 block of Madison Avenue and arrested the driver, Ray Bernal, 30, of Fairmont City.

Bernal allegedly became hostile when stopped, pulling away and swinging his arm at the officer. He also failed to produce a driver's license and was charged with not having a valid driver's license and resisting a peace officer, according to official reports.

He was released from custody at 8:50 a.m. Saturday upon posting a $202 cash bond, pending a hearing.

RELEASED ON $202 BAIL

Booked last week on a warrant for an alleged deceptive practice occurring Aug. 21, victimizing Harper Automotive, 2006 Illinois Ave., Otto Silvestre, 53, of 2548 Benton St., was freed on $202 bail.

CUISINE QUIZ. Former Granite Cityan Maryann Schicker displays her new food and nutrition trivia game, "Le Chef," which she is now distributing through mail orders. The game can be played by children and adults, and is available to individuals and organizations as a fund-raising project for $6.95.

Game by former GC resident lets children play with food

What are the two water-soluble vitamins? In 1983 what was the fastest growing dairy product in the U.S.? What is a cookie called in England? Are kangaroos edible?

Those are just some of the questions included in a new game invented and now distributed by former Granite Cityan Maryann (Fechte) Schicker.

Mrs. Schicker's new game, called "Le Chef, Petite Gourmet Edition," involves a color yourself game board and 120 colored cards containing a total of 480 questions about food and nutrition.

The cards are divided into five color-coded categories: bakery, dairy, fruits and vegetables, butcher shop and miscellaneous. A player moves a token (which he supplies himself, possibly from another game) around the board to the colored space which matches the colored card drawn by the questioner, appropriately called Le Chef.

Each card contains four questions of varying degree of difficulty which are listed at random. The point value of each question also varies. Players advance around the board to the Le Chef's Cooking School. Players win the game not by reaching the school first, but by accumulating the most points for correctly answered questions.

Mrs. Schicker, who now lives in St. Louis, says the game can be played by children as young as 5 years old and by adults. It can be played by two or more individual players or by teams. Additional question cards, she says, will be issued later, and some questions will be more difficult for the adult player.

Mrs. Schicker says she invented the game because of her interest in food and cooking. She has begun work on a food encyclopedia, but publishing the game, she notes, "was quicker. Last Christmas, I looked for something like it, but there was only 'Trivial Pursuit,' and that doesn't involve food."

So far, Mrs. Schicker has sold the game to several neighbors and friends, but she says it can be used by organizations as a fund-raiser.

The game is sold for $6.95 by mail order, and can be purchased by writing Le Chef, Post Office Box 13548, St. Louis, Mo., 63118. Additional cards are priced at $5.95.

SMALL BOY HURT IN MINOR MISHAP ON LOT

Christopher Askins, 5, of 724 Twenty-Seventh Place, sustained an injury while in the auto of Frances Hughes, 708 Twenty-Seventh Place, which was parked in the Medicare Pharmacy lot at American Village Shopping Center during the weekend.

The Hughes car allegedly was struck by the vehicle of Rosemary Bailey, 56, of Granite City, who was backing from a parking place in front of the store at the time, reports said.

ENTER TRACTOR TRUCK

A radar detector unit worth $300 and a 40-channel CB radio valued at $150 were stolen from the cab of a tractor-trailer truck, belonging to Prime Inc. of Springfield, Mo., while the vehicle was parked at Fox Warehouse, 1700 State St., Marvin Denton reported during the weekend. The thief broke the windshield to reach inside and unlock the vehicle, he said.

Roof repairs for city buildings finally are approved

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

After a three-month long quest to have the roof repaired at the street department, Granite City aldermen finally agreed Tuesday night to award the contract to Home Renovators Company for approximately $38,000.

Mayor Paul Schuler told city council members after the motion passed that he hopes the council will devise a better system to seek proposals in the future so the city "wouldn't look this bad again. If the school strike had not captured the front page of the Press-Record Monday, I think this would have—and we still would have," he said. "Everyone should accept some of the responsibility for the errors made on this."

ACCORDING TO Acting City Engineer Ed Schulze, what should have been a simple roof repair bid was turned into a "long story."

"The flat roofs over at the street department (2301 Adams St.) have been leaking for a long time," he said. "But I think the hailstorm we had this spring brought things to a head."

Schulze said the street department building had been the former residence of A.H. Siebold. The main building, which has a gable roof, had two additions added onto it, one on each side of the main building.

These additions were built with flat roofs.

HE SAID Siebold sold the building to the city some time ago and that, since that time, the flat roofs have been deteriorating. The building also houses the city's sanitation and safety departments.

"So when we decided to seek bids on the roof repairs, we decided rather than just get the flat roofs repaired, we would gable them," he said.

Schulze said that because of the hail damage, the city attempted to make an insurance claim on the repairs. They ran into delays, however, because the city has recently changed insurance companies. "But we finally got the claim settled," he said.

HE SAID they then advertised for bids on the work. "At that time, the specifications were for two gable roofs at the street department, ceiling repairs and new roofs at the police department and fire station number 2," he said.

Schulze said the city received one bid. The bid was sent in by Ed Perigen from Home Renovators Co. for $28,000. "Since only one bid was received and there was nothing to compare it with, the council decided to have Superintendent of Streets Mac Warfield call some contractors for additional proposals."

Schulze said Warfield added to the bid the repair of some additional ceiling tiles and bathroom repairs at the street department. Burlingame Construction Co. was called and they gave an estimate of $29,000 for the work.

THE COUNCIL then decided to reject both that bid and the Perigen bid," said Schulze. "They moved to readvertise, but this time, plans were drawn up for the work."

Schulze said no bids were received this time.

Last week, Mayor Paul Schuler suggested that the city council negotiate with some contractors to see if someone would do the work.

"I met with the city building committee and we set up some rules," said Schulze. "We decided we would give Home Renovators first option on the negotiations, since they had sent in the first bid and Burlingame the second option."

SCHULZE SAID Home Renovators was called and told that the scope of the work had been expanded again. They told him that, in addition to the three roof repairs, ceiling work and bathroom repairs, a new roof had to be put on the carport at the street department and that fire station number 3 had 2,600 square feet of water damage to the ceiling.

"Friday we went around with Perigen with the plans and he told us he would give us an estimate on Monday," said Schulze. "He gave us a price of $38,000 and we feel it is a fair offer."

Schulze said Burlingame had not been consulted because it would have taken at least another two weeks to solicit a new bid from him.

"IF I WERE to carry this scenario out, then after getting Burlingame's price, I would have gone back to Perigen and asked him if he could lower his bid any, then I would have gone back and forth between the two until someone said they would not lower their price any further," he said.

"If we would have gone with that, by the time we were done negotiating, it would be November and the snow would be flying. Regardless of the 100 degree weather today, we've lost the summer," Schulze said.

He expressed an opinion that the city could avoid future mix-ups by developing a full set of guidelines and specifications for the work before seeking bids. "But this is not all the city's fault," he said. "The contractors' schedules were full because of all the roof repairs and the job we want done is not easy."

"MOST OF them didn't want to mess with it. Their dance cards were full and our job has too much guess work involved," he added.

City seeks cut of Lotto sales

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Granite City aldermen approved a motion Tuesday night to present a resolution to the Illinois Municipal League that may give the city some revenue from Illinois State Lottery ticket sales.

Aldermen Casmer Skubish and Lloyd Bailey initiated the discussion, saying they "can't see why the city can't get a cut of the revenue."

SKUBISH SAID that the Municipal League Convention, which will be conducted Sept. 28 through Oct. 1, has a resolution committee which occasionally sponsors legislation to go through to the Illinois General Assembly for consideration. He said he hopes to gain support from other municipalities for the resolution.

Skubish stressed that the city would not try to get "its share" from the lottery seller's percentage, nor would it try to gain revenue by increasing the sales tax on the tickets.

"The revenue from the lottery sales represents a huge amount of money to the state. I think it's the fourth largest source of revenue," said Skubish.

SKUBISH ADDED that the income is so "lucrative" that state representatives and legislators are seeking a $4,000 increase in pay. "Those people are already making $12,000 a year and for most of them, that is only a part-time job," he said. "Many of them also have law practices."

According to the state, the lottery proceeds benefit education, senior citizens and other state grant programs.

Skubish said he does not feel the city cut would slight any of these programs because the funds are not being handled well. "My understanding is that the money goes into the general fund and then it is divided up from there," he said. "I don't think the money is distributed like it should be."

"IF THE STATE was trying to benefit education, don't you think they would take the plight of the Granite City School District into consideration?"

Skubish added that because of the proximity of Granite City to St. Louis, the city could make a large amount of revenue. "If you go to places where they are selling lottery tickets, it looks like a boom town," he said. "But the truth is, Granite City is not getting any money at all from these sales."

Skubish said he is confident that such a resolution will be accepted by the Municipal League. "I think other cities would certainly join in with us," he said.

MAYOR PAUL Schuler said he agreed that the idea of deriving income from the lottery sales is a good one. "Your point is well taken and I think we should work together on this," he said.

City Attorney John Papa will investigate the state laws surrounding such a resolution and bring back a recommendation to the council.

Convention spending causes disagreement

Although many Granite City aldermen agreed with the idea of seeking a cut of the state funds from lottery sales, several aldermen Tuesday night were against the rest of the motion, which involved the cost of sending elected officials to the Illinois Municipal League Convention. The resolution is to be presented to city aldermen at the convention, thus necessitating the spending of city funds to get the idea to the meeting.

Aldermen and elected officials from the city attending the convention, will be given a $450 expense check each.

ALDERMAN SAM Whitmer said he could not go along with this type of spending. "This item is not included in the budget," he said. "It hasn't been in the budget for the past two years."

"Now that we've got the city on foot, we're going to spend $5,000, $6,000 or 7,000 on this convention. I don't see any reason for us to go."

"We didn't go the last two years and the city has progressed right along. We came up with revenue through the sales tax and utility tax."

Now that the comptroller says we're in good shape, all we want to do is spend money," Whitmer contended.

ALDERMAN SHARON Perjak said she disagrees with Whitmer. "There are a lot of things going on in the state (ways to gain revenue) that we don't know about," she said.

Alderman Carl Kittel agreed, saying that some of the "younger" aldermen have not had the opportunity to attend these conventions. He said he feels aldermen should spend their time at the convention seriously. "I realize the money factor, but I think the aldermen will get out of the convention what they put into it," he said. "If they want to go up there to party, they won't be helping the city."

Voting against the expenditure were Aldermen Paul Fisk, Whitmer, Everett Morten and Paul Ray Bowler.

VOTING FOR the measure were Aldermen Casmer Skubish, Fred "Pat" Schuman, Kittel, Phillip Miller, Mrs. Perjak, Jake Vartanian, Lloyd Bailey, Woodrow "Woody" Moad, Stephen Saltich and Michael Modrusis.

Parking laws approved

Granite City Council members passed two ordinances Tuesday night which will affect parking in the city.

The first will make the 2700 and 2800 blocks of Benton Street no parking zones.

The second establishes two handicapped parking zones in front of residences at 2411 Washington Ave. and 2244 Lee Ave.

Aldermen had agreed earlier that both residents will have to show proof of their handicaps and that parking spaces will be restricted to vehicles showing handicapped stickers.

ALLEGED BATTERY IN DISTURBANCE AT HOME

Larry D. Naeve, 37, of the 2900 block of Palmer Avenue, was arrested and charged with battery, following a disturbance there at 8:10 p.m. Tuesday. He was released after posting a $50 cash bond.

His wife, JoAnn Naeve, alleged being struck in the face by her husband. There was swelling near the right eye, reports said.

Naeve, who climbed out of the window of a padlocked mobile home in response to a request by police, suffered a cut to a hand. He said there was no key to the mobile home. He declined medical attention.

raise glasses in the executive dining room to the bright future of National Steel and the local plant.

The officials of the two nations agreed that combining Japanese technology and resources with American facilities and skills should make National Steel a successful world-class steel corporation.

In addition to a luncheon, hard hats were issued and the Japanese dignitaries were treated to a tour of many areas of the plant, including the basic oxygen furnace division, the sewage treatment plant and the continuous slab caster, which Kokan helped design.

VISITORS FROM Kokan at the local plant Monday, in addition to Kanau, were: Haruki Kamiya, executive vice president of Kokan and National Steel; Yukio Tani and Susuki Doi, directors of Kokan and executive vice presidents of National Steel; Kenichiro Sekino, manager, executive secretariat; Minoru Hashimoto, president of NKK America in New York City; Yutaro Fujino, manager of NKK America; Hiroshi Matsumoto, manager of engineering and steel for NKK America; Yoshio Tokumitsu, general manager of Kokan's Sales and Planning Department; and Takashi Mura and Naotaka Kuroda, managers of public relations for Kokan.

The Kokan delegation arrived about noon and was gone by 4 p.m., but not until after presenting a ceremonial gift from Kokan to the Granite City plant, in this case, trees to help landscape the mill grounds.

According to Dan Hines, director of public relations for GCSC, the number of trees or varieties are not yet known, but they are expected to arrive soon.

Attorney seeks documents to determine city finances

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Madison city officials have been requested to provide financial documents and records, some going back five years, to Police Benevolent and Protective Association Unit 110 Attorney Thomas Sonneborn.

In a three-page letter introduced to aldermen during a council meeting Tuesday night, Sonneborn requested the documents under the Illinois Freedom of Information Act and the Local Records Act, which requires that public documents and records be provided upon request within seven working days of receiving the request.

ALTHOUGH the letter is dated Aug. 14, Madison City Attorney Casper Nighossian contended that he had not received the letter until Aug. 21. Even so, in introducing the letter Tuesday, the seven-working-day time requirement for response may have expired.

Nighossian told the council that he may be able to obtain a time extension, adding that it "may take more than 14 working days to get this extensive list together."

Alderman Thomas Gordon commented during discussion about the request and the Freedom of Information Act that the city is facing an "undue burden. I think we should contact our state representative and see if we can get this law amended."

THE COUNCIL decided during the meeting — presided over by Alderman William Gushel — because of the absence of Mayor Mike Sasyk — to refer the matter to Nighossian to see if the extensive list may be reduced or if the city may be granted a time extension to compile the documents.

Sonneborn has requested the following information on behalf of the Police Benevolent and Protective Association Unit 110 of Madison: copies of budget documents and appropriations or finances for the past five years, copies of the city's financial audits for the past five years, copies of all financial documents relating to the cable alarm system in Madison, and financial documents concerning revenues and expenditures involving the city's utility tax during the past five years.

In addition, Sonneborn has requested copies of "all agreements, contracts and transactions in the past 10 years between the city of Madison and (Mayor) Michael Sasyk, or any firm, business or entity in which he or a member of his family has a legal or equitable interest."

ADDITIONAL requests include records of all expenditures for the past two years, revenues and expenditures pertaining to the motor fuel tax, travel expenses for city officials and financial data relating to the cable television system.

Nighossian said the city could charge between 10 and 25 cents per copy for each document requested, but he again questioned the amount of time it might take city workers to compile the information.

Council members asked City Clerk John Bellecoff how long it might take him to compile the information, but he could not answer specifically, although he expressed no reluctance to attempt to provide the information.

POLICE Benevolent and Protective Association Unit 110 President Tom Voloski told the Press-Record that the information was requested by Sonneborn on behalf of the association.

"The city tells us they have no money for (police) raises. Yet, they appropriated $10,000 for two new cars for the police department. We're trying to find out, is the city in the financial position they say it is?"

The city council approved a bid for two used cars with warranties for the police department Tuesday night. The bid from John Novotny Chevrolet asks $8,910 for each vehicle and $295 for each 24-month or 24,000-mile warranty.

Voloski said he didn't know what sort of legal action might be taken should the city not comply with the request. Sonneborn could not be reached by the Press-Record for comment.

Sonneborn appeared before the council on behalf of the police association during a meeting July 17, but Sasyk did not allow him to speak, charging that Sonneborn was not recognized as a negotiator for the police.

Nameoki votes to participate in reassessment of GC Steel

By RACHEL NEWSOME
for the Press-Record

"We aren't trying to hurt Granite City Steel, just protect ourselves as well as the other townships," said Carl Macios, Nameoki Township tax assessor, referring to a resolution approved at Monday night's Nameoki Town Board meeting to join with other governmental bodies in paying for an independent assessment of Granite City Steel.

Macios explained to the board that he wants to have Granite City Steel reappraised determining whether their property is considered real or personal and if their taxing structure should be revised. The appraisal will cost the township approximately $5,000 to $8,000, but in the future the township will "get back five or six times what was spent" if the appraisal keeps GC Steel from having its assessment lowered.

"It's a shame we have to go after Granite City Steel since they are our biggest industry. Why don't we go after all of these enterprises?" questioned Helen Hawkins, board member.

"We have to do this to protect ourselves. We won't have any taxing bodies if this keeps up," Macios replied.

Certificates of tax levies for the road district and for the township were read and approved by the board. The total tax levy for the township amounted to $384,991, which is the amount to be raised by taxation next summer.

At a previous township meeting, complaints pertaining to old transformers stored behind the township building were heard from township employees. Oil and chemicals from these transformers, a suspected cancer-causing agent, covers the area where the transformers are stored.

The employees want the transformers removed and the oil spill cleaned up. Harry Briggs, supervisor, has stated he made requests to the EPA to inspect the transformers and storage area. It appears his requests have paid off. He reported at Monday night's meeting that the ERA has called and instructed him to not move the transformers and that someone would be coming down to look at them on Tuesday.

Complaints also were heard from a township resident concerning reports of toxic material being disposed of in a drained portion of Horseshoe Lake. Township highway employees blamed the matter on Frank Mehelec, highway commissioner.

Lee Adams, board member, said it was ironic that Mehelec never at tends board meetings to explain or defend himself. "He should either show up or resign," Adams contended.

In other business, Briggs announced that commodities will be available at the Township Hall on Thursday, Sept. 6. To be eligible, each recipient must declare themselves as needy within government income guidelines, produce a Public Aid green card, a Supplemental Security Income (SSI) card, or a W-2 form.

Sabbatical leave for BJ Davis

The Granite City Board of Education decided Tuesday night to grant a sabbatical leave for the 1984-85 year to Bobby Joe Davis, Superintendent of School District Nine for the past 18 years, through June 30 of this year. Davis on June 22 was given the option of having no duties or performing teaching duties this school year.

In accepting a one-year sabbatical leave, he will retain continuity of service and then be able to teach here in 1985-86, completing his qualification for early retirement from District Nine at age 55.

Davis was born March 23, 1931. He can utilize his scheduled retirement program only by maintaining an active association with the school system through the spring of 1986.

The sabbatical was authorized by the board in a 5-1 vote. Alan Crider dissented, and Mrs. Ruth Lehr was absent.

Approving the plan were Pres. David Partney, Sec. Thomas Minksky, Treas. Kelly Hogan, Monroe Worthen and Dewey Melton.

A large gathering of friends honored the longtime school administrator at a reception early this week at Charlie's Restaurant.

A plaque was presented to Davis by Wilbur Trimpe, former Madison County superintendent of schools and former Lewis and Clark College president. Trimpe currently is the acting president of the Granite City Center of Belleville Area College.

BURGLAR TAKES RINGS

A wedding band and two diamond and silver rings with a total value of $300 were taken in a burglary at the home of Heather Turk, 1901 State St., she reported recently. A lock was pried away from the door frame to gain entry.

TWO TARPULAINS TAKEN

Del Cross, a driver for Jerry Garrett, 1428 Market St., Venice, told police last week that someone removed two tarpaulins from his truck. The truck had been parked on the lot across the street from Garrett's business.

Commodities to be distributed

Officials in Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships and the Salvation Army have announced that they will give out surplus government commodities next week.

Commodities will include: processed cheese, cheddar cheese, butter, dry milk, honey, cornmeal and flour. The honey, cornmeal, dry milk and flour are in short supply and persons will be asked to take their choice of one. All products will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis.

To be eligible to receive commodities, persons must be residents of the township where they are getting the cheese, they must be the head of a household or the spouse, have their Social Security number and sign an affidavit that their total household income is within the correct guidelines. Recipients should bring some proof of residency other than drivers' licenses. Unpaid utility bills or a voters' registration cards are adequate.

Income guidelines are as follows: one person, $19; two persons, $20; three persons, $21; four persons, $22; five persons, $24; six persons, $25; seven persons, $26; eight persons, $28 and $31 may be added for each additional member of the household.

Chouteau Township will begin distribution at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 5, at the Chouteau Township Social Center, 6974 N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell (behind the Midwest Motel). Officials stress that the doors will not be opened until 9:30 a.m., so that they can get the program set up properly.

Venice Township will give out commodities at 9 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 6, at Englebert Hall, 10th Street and Washington Avenue, Madison. Township officials advise that honey should not be fed to children under 12 months of age.

Officials also note that there will be no discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

The Salvation Army, 2007 E. 23rd St., will begin distribution of commodities to Granite City Township residents at 9 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 6. A representative for the Salvation Army said commodities will not be distributed if there is inclement weather. She also advised that the cheese will be distributed on Thursday only, unless there are some leftovers.

Nameoki Township will give away commodities starting at 7:30 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 6. Commodities will be given out at the township hall, 4250 Highway 162.

FTA WARRANT SERVED

William Mitchell Sale, 21, of 2131 Grand Ave., was charged last week with failure to appear in court on a traffic warrant. The warrant was issued by the Montgomery County Sheriff's Department.

$26 million school spending proposed

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Granite City schools' tentative amended budget—set for adoption, Sept. 25—calls for $26,467,858 to be spent in the July 1984-June 1985 year, including $26,000 for contingencies (possible or unforeseen costs).

Accrued income is shown as $25,641,333.

In addition to the contingencies, instruction costs are to total $14,575,401, support services $9,893,840, debt interest $915,530, non-pupil charges $491,673 and community services $12,214.

The $26,467,858 spending consists of $22,516,777 in the education fund, $1,949,128 in the building fund, $1,368,550 in the transportation fund and $483,405 in the municipal retirement fund.

ACTUAL 1982-83 expenses of $29,510,916 and actual 1983-84 expenses of $23,828,446 consisted of: education $26,237,063 and then $20,892,185, building fund $1,341,778 and $1,174,905, transportation $1,298,082 and $1,248,503, and retirement $633,253 and $542,843.

The district operated 18 schools in the first of those two years and 12 schools in the second year.

Norman S. Owca, director of finance of School District Nine, said last week, "The education fund budget shows a potential excess of expenses over revenues on the cash side of $512,535 and on the accrual side of $798,310 after subtracting this fund's provision of $500,000 for contingencies."

The $512,535 estimate is the difference between $21,218,467 in cash resources and $21,731,002 in projected expenditures.

POSSIBLE TRIMMING to avoid the half-million-dollar education fund shortfall will be studied during the one-month period in which the new budget is on display. A public budget hearing will be conducted at 7:00 p.m. Sept. 25 at the school board office.

The original 1984-85 budget was adopted last winter. This was done to legalize second-year borrowing, and the measure merely repeated all 1983-84 budget figures.

As amended, the '84-85 budget estimates that the school system will borrow $7,646,998 by issuing tax anticipation notes.

INTEREST COSTS of $904,410 for education fund borrowing are expected to include $658,848 paid as interest on anticipation notes, $244,162 on anticipation warrants and $1,400 on teachers' payroll orders.

Warrant interest payments in 1983-84 amounted to $775,000. Under accrual accounting, the new budget envisions that the $25,641,333 revenue in 1984-85 will consist of $13,166,176 local, $11,164,431 state and $1,310,726 federal.

CORPORATE PERSONAL property replacement taxes are shown as $2,455,908, the same as in 1983-84. This projection was supplied by the Illinois Department of Revenue.

No figures have been listed as yet for the 1984 real estate tax levy, payable in 1985. The school levy extended for 1983 fell to $8,732,176, compared to $8,916,609 for 1982.

"WITH A DECREASE in assessed valuation of $8,904,166 (the 1982 assessment total of $258,481,457 was cut to a 1983 valuation of $249,577,291), this assessment loss lowered our real estate taxes that are to be collected this summer."

The reductions affected all of the funds except municipal retirement and tort immunity," Owca explained.

"Since the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund is used by the employer to pay into employee pensions, and the tort immunity fund is for worker compensation, unemployment costs and certain liability insurance, the revenue levied is guaranteed."

"BECAUSE THE MONEY is guaranteed, these tax rates increased from 20.75 cents to 22.73 cents per $100 assessment for retirement and from 9.75 to 12.64 cents for tort immunity, in order to provide enough money for the pension and insurance costs."

"No specific amounts are guaranteed for the education, building, transportation, life safety and working cash funds, which for both 1982 and 1983 were at their limits of $2.55, 37.5 cents, 12 cents, five cents and five cents, respectively."

"When the valuation went down, these rates could not be raised to get the amounts levied, so our total to be collected decreased."

NEW BUDGET FIGURES do not include $246,572 of unused earned absence payments that are due honorably dismissed teachers. The budget does estimate that slightly more than one-third of the $397,943 that is owed will be requested this year.

Expected miscellaneous revenue of $96,572 consists of—$9,947 interest accrued on state funds between the time of deposit and the time that checks clear the account when mailed from the office of the Madison County regional school superintendent to District Nine.

$7,875 awaited in reimbursements from other taxing bodies as 35 percent of the cost of legal fees to oppose losing four-fifths of current Granite City Steel real estate taxes.

—$78,750 awaited from other taxing bodies as 35 percent of the cost of appraising Granite City Steel real estate in connection with the governmental agencies' opposition to the industry's assessment appeal. A state hearing is pending.

IN DISCUSSING budgeting for the education fund, Owca noted that "we receive money for this fund from the state government, local taxes, payments in lieu of taxes, the federal government and other local sources."

"Largest education fund income comes from Illinois general state aid, special education, driver education, the free lunch program, gifts, education, orphan's tuition and summer school payments."

"General aid, biggest of these sources, is based on the previous year's pupil attendance and local assessment. This amount usually is set by the end of July."

"The other state revenues we receive are based on availability of funds and the requirements of each particular program."

"LOCAL TAXPAYERS provide the next largest amount of receipts; in real estate and tort immunity taxes, the former for general education expenses and the latter for insurance purposes."

"A small part of tort immunity is used for insurance policies to protect taxpayers' money, and for some property other than buildings and grounds."

The remainder is used to pay worker compensation for employees injured on the job and unemployment compensation when employees are laid off.

"Worker compensation and unemployment insurance are required by state law."

"TO REDUCE local taxpayers' tort immunity taxes, we are selling insurance. Reserves are kept in a trust fund for both."

"The third largest income source is money in lieu of taxes. These receipts are from corporate personal property replacement taxes, mobile home privilege taxes and local governmental housing authorities."

The corporate replacement tax replaces taxes on businesses' personal property.

Individuals also once paid personal property taxes on such things as autos and household furniture.

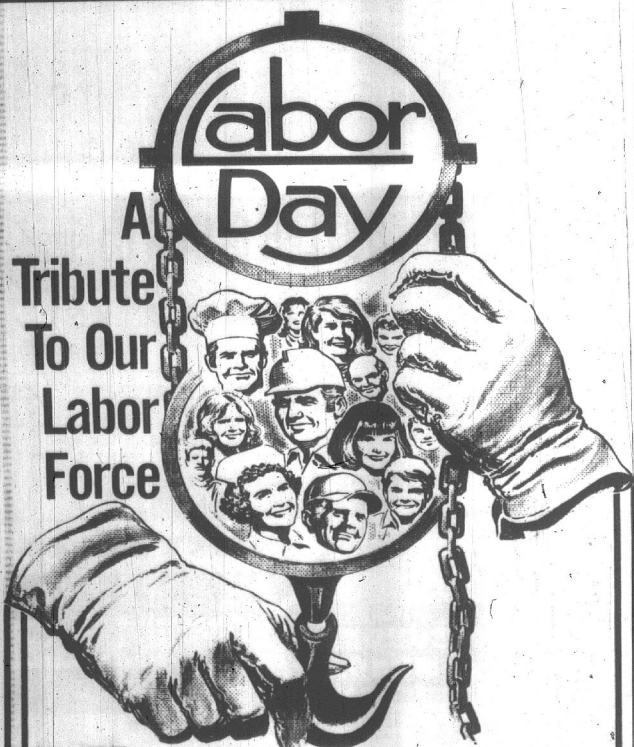

OWCA NOTED THAT "the federal government sends us money for our school lunch program, the Chapter I and Title IV-B programs, vocational education, and education for the handicapped. We will continue to classify these same sources of federal income until more definite plans or block grants are established by the U.S."

"Our smallest source of income is obtained from students' books and handbags, textbooks, summer school, special education tuition, admissions to pupil activities, interest earned on investments, and rentals."

Violent crimes down sharply, Weber says

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber says his opponent in the Nov. 6 election has demonstrated again his inability to understand the criminal justice system.

"Dick Allen has released alleged statistics from the Madison County sheriff's office which have no relationship to total criminal activities in Madison County as a whole.

"The sheriff's office statistics fail to include relevant data related to municipalities within Madison County, such as Alton, Edwardsville, Granite City, etc.," Weber said.

He also said Allen was supplied with detailed information from the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority, but instead chose to use what Weber referred to as "outdated and inaccurate data."

Earlier, Allen, the Democratic nominee seeking to defeat Weber, a Republican, accused the state's attorney of being deceitful in his campaign.

Allen said Weber was misrepresenting statistics when he claimed that crime is down in Madison County and said Weber was trying to "hoodwink" the public with false statistics.

Allen presented his own statistics but they were projections, and showed a higher increase in crime than the sheriff's actual year-end figures for 1983.

Weber says his own crime statistics have been documented by the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority. He provided reporters with a copy of the Authority's statistics. The statistics were contained in a letter to Weber dated June 13.

Weber also provided a copy of a July 9 letter to Allen from the Information Authority in which statistics for Madison County were listed.

Weber, who has served on the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission by appointment of the governor, said he has great respect for the data supplied by the Information Authority.

In his statement, Weber said: "It should be noted that Dick Allen was provided detailed information by the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority on July 9, 1984, which definitively showed that the crime index within Madison County showed an overall decrease of 12.2 percent.

The overall crime index includes violent as well as non-violent crime.

However, even when presented with impartial data, Mr. Allen has chosen to rely on outdated and inaccurate data allegedly supplied by the Madison County sheriff's department. Mr. Allen has chosen to ignore the fact that the overall crime index for Madison County has decreased 12.2 percent from the period 1980 through 1983.

Weber said Allen has never served on the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission and has no experience in the overall administration or interpretation of criminal justice data.

"This is clearly demonstrated by his total disregard of the statistics provided by the Information Authority as well as the sheriff's office's own statements that Mr. Allen's figures are erroneous.

"Clearly, the violent crime rate is down 36 percent in Madison County from 1980 through 1983," he said. Weber said he feels this is the statistic that is most critical in analyzing the safety factor that has been provided to citizens of Madison County in their day-to-day lives.

He stressed that the July 9 letter to Allen from the authority listed the overall crime index as decreasing 12.2 percent. The letter also said the proportion of indexed crimes that are violent had decreased from 5.7 percent in 1980 to 4.2 percent in 1983.

Madison County had an index of 337 violent crimes per 100,000 population in 1980. In 1983, the number was 216, a decrease of 36 percent over the three-year period.

In St. Clair County, the index for violent crimes was 917 per 100,000 in 1980, dropping 11 percent in the three years to 816 in 1983.

President signs Jefferson Memorial expansion bill.

President Ronald Reagan has signed into law in Chicago legislation introduced by U. S. Senator Charles Percy and backed by the entire Illinois Congressional delegation that establishes the Illinois and Michigan (I & M) Canal National Heritage Corridor and authorizes the expansion for the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial to East St. Louis.

"I can't tell you how pleased I am that the president will sign this historic legislation into law in Illinois," Percy said before the signing Friday. "While it would have been nice if the president could have come to East St. Louis for the event, his signature in Chicago will expand the Gateway Arch even that much further."

President Reagan addressed the convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chicago.

Title I of the bill establishes the I & M Canal National Heritage Corridor, which will preserve natural areas and historic sites and develop a recreational trail along the Des Plaines and Illinois River Valleys from Chicago to LaSalle, Peru. Under the legislation, a federal commission will be established to promote the resources of the corridor. No land or property will be acquired by the federal government.

Title II of the bill provides for a 20-member commission made up of local, state and federal officials to develop a report within two years on the expansion of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial and to submit it to the U. S. Secretary of the Interior for approval. It then authorizes the secretary to acquire 100 acres at a cost of no more than $1 million for the expansion and provides $750,000 to construct a visitors' center there. It also authorizes $350,000 a year to operate and maintain the park and up to $500,000 to match funds raised locally for renovation and landscaping.

Percy said the signing begins the process of making the dream of the expansion of the Gateway Arch a dream come true. "Getting to this point has been a tough job, but well worth the effort. The expansion will assist development on the East St. Louis riverfront in addition to enhancing the value of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial," he noted.

School bonds on ballot for Nov. 6

Granite City School District Nine voters will be asked Nov. 6 to authorize the district to issue bonds in the amount of $6,600,000 for a working cash fund as provided for by Article 20 of The School Code.

Approval would actually produce only $6.5 million due to the reduction this month in the total assessed valuation of the district, it was estimated at Tuesday night's Board of Education meeting.

However, the ballot will show $6.6 million and it will be up to the Madison County clerk to fine-tune the tax extension and allocate only the precise amount that legally can be obtained through this financing method.

A MAJORITY VOTE will decide the proposal. School officials say the district may not be able to complete the 1984-85 year without the bond program.

Whether to include an education fund tax rate limit increase as a separate ballot question Nov. 6 will be a matter facing the board Tuesday night, Sept. 4.

County Clerk Evelyn Bowles must be notified by Sept. 6 of the board's decision.

A MOTION by Board Member Dewey Melton to submit a 30-cent rate proposal died for lack of a second Tuesday night but the topic can be revived.

The board approved 6-0, with Mrs. Ruth Lahr absent, a "certification of public question."

Secretary Thomas Miosky certified that on June 28 the board declared its intention to issue $6.6 million in working cash fund bonds, that public notice was given on July 12 and that on Aug. 11 a petition signed by at least 10 percent of the registered voters asked that the bond issue be voted on by the public.

THESE EVENTS required the secretary to certify the proposition for submission at a regular election, and it has been set for 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Nov. 6.

The usual notice and specimen ballot will be published prior to the election.

Not acted on was a resolution asking that voters change the education fund rate limit from $2.55 for each $100 of valuation to $2.85.

The resolution relates that "because of the decreasing revenues of the district from sources other than property taxes, it is necessary that the district increase the tax rate for educational purposes."

ARREST DRIVER OF TRUCK AFTER MAN, 29, IS HIT

A pedestrian, Anthony W. Buckingham, 29, of 1740 Courtenay Blvd., was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment of injuries received when he was struck from behind by a pickup truck as he stood on the Nameoki Village Shopping Center lot last week.

William J. Conner, 18, of 209 Wilson Park Lane was charged with reckless driving and transporting ale. It was alleged he left a parking place at high speed and lost control of the truck while making a U-turn.

ALLIGES VIOLATES ORDER OF PROTECTION

Harold T. Clements, 41, of 2366 Iowa St., was arrested at 25th and Benton streets during the weekend and charged with violation of a court order of protection, which was issued Aug. 3. He also was charged with driving the wrong way on a one-way street and reckless driving. He was released upon posting a $102 cash bond.

While blowing some type of siren, Clements allegedly drove in a reckless manner past his estranged wife, Carol, who was standing outside her home in the 2100 block of Benton Street.

The man allegedly made a U-turn and again drove toward the home, traveling the wrong way on the one-way street, reports said.

1978 PICKUP MISSING FROM AUTO SALES LOT

A blue 1978 Chevrolet pickup truck with a chrome color camper shell was stolen from the Bobby George Auto Sales, 3002 Nameoki Road, it was reported at 6:20 p.m. Monday.

Police were told a woman came in to the auto sales at noon Monday and asked if she could drive the pickup to a local business place, where her husband worked in order to put the vehicle on the rack for a check prior to a sale.

About a half-hour later, a man phoned saying the truck had a bad U-joint and asked if the firm would take less money for the truck. He was told to come back with the vehicle and talk, but the man never appeared.

The sales lot owner checked with the discount store and learned no one worked there with the name given by the woman. Neither had a pickup truck been checked there that day.

QUESTION YOUTH ABOUT DEVIATE SEXUAL ASSAULT

A deviate sexual assault on a 5-year-old boy was reported at 5:40 p.m. Monday by the stepfather of the child.

After noticing red marks on the child's lower body, the man questioned his stepson and learned that a 14-year-old youth had molested the boy in a deviate sexual manner. A second boy, 12, had assisted in removing the child's clothing, officers were advised.

The 14-year-old was taken to police headquarters and later was released to his mother, pending further investigation by a juvenile officer. The 12-year-old and his mother also were interviewed at the station.

telephone bills, 25,000 residential and small-business utility consumers have joined the organization.

A preliminary analysis of the first 18,581 members shows the highest number reside in the 11th Congressional District, which includes the northwest side of Chicago and several northwest suburbs, with 1215 members. The average district membership is 850.

In addition, CUB members have singled rising electric rates and high utility taxes as two issues of their greatest concern, according to a survey appearing on membership applications.

Consistent with those concerns, CUB recently announced its support for a Congressional measure to ban "phantom taxes," which are collected by utilities and never paid to the federal government. CUB contends that electric utilities are the most notorious "phantom tax" collectors.

"The early and sizeable response to CUB's membership campaign is remarkable," said Larry Kamer, CUB campaign director. "It tells us that consumers who feel the pressure of ever-increasing utility bills see CUB as a way of fighting back."

Kamer explained that the Congressional District designation is significant, because 22 people, one from each such district, are to be elected to CUB's Board of Directors,

At the present time, with the pending cases of 1,839, it is the lowest the backlog has been for many years, and this tradition is doing exceedingly well."

"There was a slight gain in most other categories, with the exception of probate, where the clean-up docket disposed of a number of cases."

Reports said Reynolds came into the apartment while his ex-wife was taking a long distance telephone call in a bedroom and a woman friend was seated in the living room.

Mrs. Reynolds alleged her former husband pointed a pistol at her and threatened her. She pleaded with him and finally convinced him to put the gun away, she told police.

Meanwhile, the person on the other end of the telephone hung up and notified police, who went to the dwelling.

Reynolds came to the door carrying a black case containing a 9-millimeter semi-automatic pistol with one round in the chamber and 13 live rounds in a clip, reports alleged. After being charged, Reynolds posted a $300 cash bond and was released pending a court appearance.

Near-record number receive Public Aid

A near-record total of 1,107,404 Illinois residents received Public Assistance in June according to Public Aid Director Gregory L. Coler.

The number of persons assisted by the Department of Public Aid in June, 1984 represents a 2.6 percent increase over the 1,079,519 persons aided in June 1983. Public Aid caseloads have increased almost every month since November 1979, when 936,869 persons received assistance.

"Despite the increase, we have been able to provide assistance to people who need help," Coler said. "Our caseworkers across the state have continued to accurately determine eligibility and ensure that benefits get to those most in need."

The number of Public Aid recipients in Madison County increased 801 over the year, some 3.9 percent. The caseload in June declined somewhat from May, when an all-time record number of families were assisted through the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) Program. Peak caseloads occurred in the Chicago General Assistance (GA) program in March.

Coler attributed a portion of the 12-month increase in the AFDC program to families who became eligible for the program as they exhausted their unemployment benefits. He pointed out that a decrease in the unemployment rate sometimes brings about an increase in the Public Aid rolls.

"A national economic improvement cited by experts has not yet helped many Illinois residents who have low incomes," Coler said. "The poor are usually the last to feel the positive effects of an economic upturn."

Caseloads totals listed include persons receiving AFDC, State Supplemental Payments and Interim Assistance to the Aged, Blind and Disabled, Medical Assistance Program is administered locally in downstate counties and townships.

Living arrangements affect SSI checks, must be reported

"People applying for or receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments, who live with someone who does, should be familiar with the effect living arrangements can have on the benefits. Because living arrangements can make a difference in a person's income, they may affect the amount of the payment a person can get," according to Oliver M. Holmes, Social Security district manager.

SSI payments are made to people with little or no income and resources, who are 65 or over, blind, or disabled.

Currently, 3.9 million people are receiving SSI benefits nationwide. A basic federal payment of up to $314 goes to eligible individuals and up to $472 to eligible couples living together. This payment may be reduced depending on the amount of income a person has.

The general rule is that the monthly SSI payment of a person who lives in the household of another is reduced by one-third.

The reduction is based on the presumption that room and board provided to the person getting SSI represents income to meet his or her basic needs.

The exception is in cases where the person is paying rent or pays his or her share of living expenses.

If rental liability is established, the person is not considered a member of the same household as the person with whom he or she is living. They are considered separate and distinct economic units, and the SSI payment is not reduced.

Holmes commented, "Any change in living arrangements should be reported to the Social Security office immediately, since it can affect the payment a person is receiving."

"If a person moves out of the household of another, the monthly payment may go up. If he or she moves into the household of another while receiving payments, the payment must be reduced."

"Failure to report immediately could lead to overpayment or underpayment of benefits. Overpayments must be repaid; generally, this is accomplished by deductions from future checks."

"However, if fraud or deliberate concealment of the facts occurs, a person may receive penalties ranging from a fine to a jail term."

"People who have questions about their living arrangements may call the Social Security office and let us know what the circumstances are, our number is 274-4100, or if this is long distance, dial the operator and ask for Enterprise 1-555."

Called last week to a disturbance outside the home of Jack Messick, 2141 Cleveland Blvd., officers found three people restraining Daniel A. Messick, 28, of 2000 Cleveland Blvd.

Jack Messick alleged that Daniel threw a rock and several flower pots through the living room window. When he went outside, Jack alleged that Daniel attacked him, striking his face.

Daniel Messick was charged with criminal damage to property and battery. He appeared in the Granite City court and pleaded innocent. Bond was set at $2,000 and a mittimus was issued. He was transferred Tuesday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

RECORDER, JEWELRY TAKEN

Ronald Dozier of 1258 Klein St., Venice, told police this month that someone entered his home, taking a video tape recorder, a video disk player, a pearl necklace, pearl earrings and a man's diamond ring. Entry was gained by prying open a window. It was noted that there was damage to the rear door of the home, but entry could not be affected through the door because of a dead-bolt lock.

Eagles initiate new members

An initiation ceremony was held for Jerry A. Dunton, Charles E. Hinkle Jr., Mike Boron, Mike Gehuck, Raymond E. Jones, Gene Kuehnle Sr., Andy Economy, Gary Granddier, Robert E. Mosser, Paul Lunsford, William Becker, Jeffrey Wayne Mills, Steve Bales and William J. Higgins, candidates for membership in the Eagles Aerie 1126, located at 2558 Madison Ave.

Members of the interviewing committee for the group were Walter Rickert, Lou Tourne and Pat McKinney, and the initiating team included Randy H. Odom, Bob Stanton, W. Barnhart, Max Mills, Bob Stanton, Bryan Boston and John A. Aubuchon.

President Harold Love presided at the session and Bob Stanton, conductor, led members in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag, followed by the presentation of the Bible and Eagle by Stanton.

Opening prayer was offered by Max Mills and reports were submitted by Pat McKinney, of the interviewing committee, John Aubuchon, secretary, Donald E. Gray, Sr., treasurer and Larry Patton, trustee.

Jeff. Eaves, co-chairman of the sick and visiting committee, announced that Bud Shaffer, conductor, was in the intensive care unit at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and Tom Gushoff is in the hospital for an eye operation.

Love read a letter of appreciation from Juanita Crawley, president of the Granite City County of Seniors, for the $250 donation the Aerie had given to the group.

He also read a communication from Bob L. Wydra, assistant general manager and Foreign Trade Zone 31 manager, in regards to the 25th anniversary year of existence of the Tri-City Regional Port District which was held Saturday. The open house was to be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Tri-City Regional Port District.

Randy H. Odom and Bob Stanton gave reports of the National Eagle's Convention that was recently held in Milwaukee at Eagles Aerie No. 127. They explained that this was the 86th National Convention and that the building where the convention was held was built in 1921 at a cost of 10 million dollars. It also houses the offices for the Grand Aerie and has been a landmark in Milwaukee ever since it was built. Odom said Bob Hope, Minnie Pearl, Danny Thomas, Frankie Laine, Della Reese and Zsa Zsa Gabor were only a few of the entertainers who were present to entertain the delegates during the convention.

Stanton said that Grand President Russell Clark announced from the convention floor that Granite City F.O.B. Aerie 1126, had given the most money ever in the United States or Canada for Eagle supported charities upon which a standing ovation was given to the two delegates representing the local Aerie.

Don Gray gave a report on the standings of the Eagle men and women's athletic football teams and Gary Rainwater reported on the pinocchio club, of which he is chairman.

During the session Love presented a medalion to Mark Bone, and a medalion and super salesman pin to Don Gray and Floyd (Bud) Waters which had been sent to the local club to be presented to these men for the job they did in signing up new members for the club. A letter which came with the medalions and pins from Milwaukee, said in part, "These men are to be congratulated for the effort and fine job they have done by being top Eagle salesmen in your club."

The closing ceremony was conducted by Randy Odom, past junior president, Max Mills, chaplain, and Larry W. Barnhart, vice president.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Last week this article discussed grandparental visitation. The question was raised as to whether or not the father's parents could still be allowed visitation with their grandchildren if the father's parental rights were terminated. This situation normally arises where the father is divorced, and the ex-wife and her new husband seek an adoption of the child. It was noted that a 1983 case concluded that the rights of a grandparent are derived from the relationship between the child and the parent. Therefore, this Appellate Court concluded that where parental rights are terminated, the grandparents' visitation rights also end.

In a 1984 case, however, a different Appellate Court reached the opposite conclusion. In this case, the paternal grandparent sought visitation following an adoption by her ex-daughter-in-law and new husband. This adoption, of course, had terminated the parental rights of the grand-mother's son, the natural father of the child. The trial court in this situation granted visitation to the grandparent. The mother opposed this, and the case wound up on appeal.

The Appellate Court held that Illinois law allowed for visitation in this circumstance. The Court examined various legislation in Illinois and felt that the legislature intended to give grandparents more rights. The Appellate Court here did make note that this was a step-parent adoption and that the grant of grandparental visitation where the child is adopted by two strangers would be the rare exception.

Thus Illinois now has two Appellate Court decisions which are in conflict on this question. Which view is the preferred one? It should be noted that there is an Illinois Supreme Court case which dealt with maternal grandparents who wanted custody of their grandchild, who had been adopted by the father and step-mother. In this case, the child's mother, who had been the daughter of the grandparents, was deceased. Here the Illinois Supreme Court held that the grandparents could not be awarded custody of the child in that an adoption terminates all parental rights and derivatively all grandparental rights.

Even though this case involves a different factual situation, the Illinois Supreme Court will probably apply the same logic to resolve the conflict discussed above. For now, however, this area of the law remains in a state of confusion.

Illinois trade office will open in China

Illinois and the Chinese Province of Liaoning plan to open trade liaison offices.

"This agreement further demonstrates strengthening of the relationship between these two governments. We are planning to have the first sub-national office in the People's Republic of China operating by Nov. 1," Gov. James R. Thompson said.

The Illinois Trade Center in Liaoning will facilitate contact between Illinois companies and appropriate representatives in China. At first, the center will be engaged in direct mail campaigns and preparing catalogs of Illinois industries suitable for export to the area.

"This is an opportune time for us to open an office in China. The international business in the Far East market is growing by leaps and bounds. We will be at the forefront to reap the benefits," the governor said.

The Illinois Liaoning Economic Council will administer the office under auspices of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA). The council is co-chaired by DCCA Director Michael T. Woelfter and Department of Agriculture Director Larry Werries.

"We signed our first agreement with Liaoning in 1982 and in 1983 entered into a trade cooperation agreement with them. The new action is a logical extension of these agreements," said Woelfter. The office initially will be staffed by one Chinese national. Cost of the first year of operation will be $35,000, which will come from existing resources.

CHARGE DRIVER WITH DUI AFTER COMPLAINT

Eddie M. Peridore, 29, of 3801 Lake Drive, Lot 145, Pontoon Beach, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol this month on Nameoki Road at Maple Avenue. He agreed to take a blood alcohol test and was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Initially, an officer was approached at West Pontoon and Nameoki roads by three people in a car, who alleged the driver of a small blue auto ran them off the road and nearly struck their vehicle. They followed the blue car to a drive-in restaurant, the trio said.

The officer located the vehicle in the restaurant's service lane and alleged the driver, identified as Peridore, appeared to be asleep behind the wheel. The man then drove onto Nameoki Road and was stopped after his auto was seen swerving, reports alleged.

Peridore appeared in court Wednesday, pleaded guilty, was fined $500 and ordered to serve one year of court supervision.

IDOT awards road improvement bids

The Illinois Department of Transportation has awarded road improvement contracts valued at $25.9 million for various projects throughout the state.

The total value is for 95 projects on which bids were submitted during the June 29 bid letting.

Local projects include:

• 0.85 mile of concrete surface on Old Edwardsville Road, along the west limits of Roxana, from Seventh Street northwest to Rohn Place, all in Roxana. The bid was awarded to the Charles E. Mahoney Co., Belleville, for $81,450.

• Route 469 - 0.35 mile of base course and resurfacing and widen the bridge over a tributary to Sugar Creek in and northeast of Highland. The bid was awarded to C.D. Peters Construction Co., Granite City, for $248,639.

• 0.88 mile of earth grading and concrete surface for School Drive, Island Drive and three parking areas in Frank Hotten State Park, between 1-255 and Route 157 in Centerville. The bid was awarded to the Kahan Corporation, Mascoutah, for $23,477.

• Modernization of traffic signals at the intersections of N. Belt W. and 59th Street, Routes 13 and 74th Street and Route 161 and Royal Heights Road, all in Belleville, and at Route 157 and Highway 51 in Collinsville. The bid was awarded to Rite Electric Company, Granite City, for $80,266.

Price comparisons will be required of hospitals

Governor James R. Thompson has signed legislation aimed at holding down the cost of health care in Illinois.

"The standard of living enjoyed by the citizens of the United States is the envy of most of the world," the governor said. "Yet we live in fear of having our life's savings wiped out by the cost of a single accident or extended illness."

"With the Illinois Health Finance Reform Act, the state has taken a critical first step toward containing the cost of health care. For the first time, consumers and payors such as insurance companies will be able to obtain basic information from hospitals on fees and prices. They will be able to compare prices. And they will be able to make judgments based on information never before available to them."

"We have seen the positive effect of competition in every sector of the economy. Practical experience has demonstrated time and again that competition works to keep prices in line," he said. "It is time to let the marketplace work."

"We can contain health care costs. But that goal can only be attained by working together—patients, payors and providers. This bill, by itself, will not contain all health care costs. But with this action, we have established a new direction and set our sights on a stable health care environment, providing the best care possible in the most efficient manner possible."

Senate 495 takes effect immediately.

Major provisions of the bill include:

• Creation of an 11-member Health Care Cost Containment Council to collect data on the cost of hospital care and hospital finances and to recommend, by March 1986, additional methods for keeping health care costs down.

The new law sets a goal limiting hospital price increases to the general rate of inflation. If hospital costs rise faster than the rate of inflation, the council will make recommendations, including regulatory steps, to prevent further excess price increases. The measures would be introduced in March of the year following the year in which the excess increases occurred.

The governor has 30 days in which to appoint members to the Cost Containment Council.

Medicaid rates will be negotiated for hospital services. The council will gather price information, which will allow comparisons to be made by specific diagnosis among hospitals.

Hospitals will begin to provide data in January 1985. Hospitals under 50 beds will be considered exempt, as reporting would be a hardship and the data is unnecessary in facilities of this size.

Since one of the most effective ways to contain hospital costs is to eliminate unnecessary admissions and extra days of inpatient care, the new law requires hospitals to provide only necessary treatment and allows payors, such as insurance companies, to review hospitalization decisions.

Infectious Canine Hepatitis

The good news is that canine hepatitis is not related to the human variety and cannot infect people. The bad news is that this disease can be fatal to unprotected dogs, and that they can sometimes contract the disease and die without displaying any of the recognized symptoms.

What are these symptoms? Generally these include depression, loss of appetite, abdominal tenderness, and a high fever. There may also be a cough and a tenderness in the dog's throat. As with any suspected illness, the dog should be taken immediately to the veterinarian for diagnosis and treatment. Though it can be fatal, particularly among puppies, your veterinarian does have a serum treatment which may save the older puppy or dog.

Fortunately, it is possible to protect dogs from this disease through use of vaccines. Usually, your veterinarian will administer this as combination vaccines... also protecting against distemper, leptospirosis, and parvovirus.

U.S. Rep Price working to cut taxes on space ventures

U.S. Representative Melvin Price (D-21st Illinois District) is working to amend existing law which taxes space exploration ventures.

Price, a member of the Congressional Space Caucus, is particularly interested in space exploration and the new technologies that are developed. He and other members of the caucus are sponsoring legislation to amend existing tax laws which burden commercial ventures to make things in space.

"When the current laws were written, most people could not reasonably foresee the potential utility of weightlessness in manufacturing, nor could they see the relevant tax implications," said Price.

Under the current law, space investments are not eligible for the investment tax credit, the research and development tax credit or accelerated depreciation, because such activities are not located on the ground in the United States. Income earned from activities in space is considered "foreign source" income and products made in space by American companies are subject to import tariffs when they are returned to the ground by the space shuttle.

The proposed amendment would allow American activities in orbit to receive the same tax treatment they would if they were conducted on the ground.

Some of the products that can be made better in the zero-gravity environment of space include drugs to treat serious diseases such as diabetes and cancer, perfect crystals for advanced computer chips and new metal alloys with valuable properties unknown until now.

"Commercial space activities will be of great importance to our nation's economic prosperity in the years ahead," Price said. "In fact, it is estimated that by the year 2,000, commercial space activities may be worth as much as $200 to $300 billion to our national economy, and may account for as many as 10 million jobs."

State scholarship limits are raised

As a result of action taken at the August meeting of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission (ISSC), many Illinois students will reap financial benefits to assist with college costs. Recent legislation enabled the commission to increase the maximum award in the Monetary Award Program (MAP), allow for increases in college costs, and make adjustments in the formula used to determine eligibility for the MAP grants.

For the 1984-85 school year, the maximum MAP grant will be $2,400 at most private institutions. Students attending state schools could receive grants up to the cost of tuition and mandatory fees. The commission also incorporated 1984-85 costs in the formula for calculating grants and increased the room and board allowance for commuter students by nine percent. In addition, the formula was adjusted to relax parental contributions expected by the ISSC. The adjustment, which lowers the ISSC expected parental contribution for middle income families, will allow approximately 10,000 students to receive additional dollars.

The staff projects that approximately 105,000 students will receive a Monetary Award during the 1984-85 school year, a figure which represents approximately one of every six undergraduate students enrolled in Illinois institutions. In terms of dollars awarded and student recipients, Illinois ranks among the top three grant programs in the nation.

Madison Tamburitzaans begin

The Happy Strings Jr. Tamburitzaans of Madison recently returned from a Croatian Junior Cultural Festival which was held in Toronto, Canada. They were among 33 groups who performed.

The Happy Strings is an ethnic music group, which consists of youngsters from the age of eight through 20 at the present time, who are retaining their slavic and eastern European culture through music, dance and song. Practice sessions are held every Wednesday at Croatian Home in Madison and is under the instruction and direction of Ken Ban of St. Louis.

Norma Belicoff of Madison, has been teaching dances during the summer months, and her sister Kathy Belicoff will continue when Norma leaves for school.

The Happy Strings are accepting new members at the present time. If any youngster with an ethnic background is interested in checking into this further, they may come to Croatian Home with their parents and talk with Mr. Ban. New members are accepted on a trial basis for one month to see whether or not they would like to continue as a member. The parents group is the backbone of the organization, so the parents of the members are required to also be actively involved with the group, according to a club spokesman.

Beginning Sunday, Sept. 2, the Happy Strings organization will once again start their "Sunday Night" dances at Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave. from 6 to 10 p.m.

Vince's Internationals will be playing favorite kodos, polkas, waltzes and rock music. Once a month, a specialty food dish will be offered, along with nachos and cheese. No dance will be held on Sept. 30, but will resume on Sept. 16.

In 1985, the group will be traveling to Chicago for the festival and in 1986, if funds warrant, they are planning on traveling to Yugoslavia for the festival. In order to be eligible to be included in the trip to Yugoslavia, one must belong to the group on or before Jan. 1, 1985.

Exercise classes offered to seniors

Anchorage and Kirkpatrick Homes senior citizens are eligible to participate in a free exercise class as part of a public service provided by the Tri-Cities Area YMCA. The class will meet twice a week, at 9:30 a.m. on Mondays and Thursdays, beginning Sept. 6 and continuing until June 1985.

The class is taught by certified yoga instructor Ellen Wilson. She says the class is geared to the person 55 years old and older, and stresses exercises that are beneficial for arthritic joints.

Mrs. Wilson adds that diet and nutrition instruction, relaxation techniques and coordination also are highlighted during the class.

Parking lot showdown leads to arrest of 3

A face-to-face confrontation between two men who apparently engaged in verbal exchanges over a citizens' band radio channel for a few days, developed into a situation involving the law this week.

Officers went to Curt's Grill, 1623 Madison Ave., after receiving a report of a disturbance and auto accident and found Henry C. Brandon, 35, of 1130 Reynolds St., Madison, and Gerald P. Everett, 24, of 2016 Harding Blvd., shouting threats at each other.

Reports alleged the pair had decided to meet for a showdown, naming the place and time, with Everett arriving in the parking lot via the south entrance and meeting Brandon at his vehicle near the lot's rear entrance.

According to reports, the two men got out of their vehicles and exchanged words. As Everett backed his station wagon directly in front of the cafe, Brandon allegedly chased him and threw a bottle, shattering a rear window in Everett's vehicle.

Everett then drove forward into Brandon's 1976 auto and when Brandon started to drive away, Everett allegedly threw a hammer, hitting Brandon's car. Once again, the two men confronted each other and Everett hit Brandon's head with a wooden club, it was alleged. Everett was charged with battery, disorderly conduct and reckless driving, and Brandon was charged with criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct.

The incident apparently did not end with the men's arrest, however. While Everett was seated in the lobby at Granite City police headquarters, a woman entered the front door and allegedly started beating Everett's head and face with her fists.

She was restrained by officers who identified her as Linda I. Brandon, 31, of 1130 Reynolds St., Madison. She was charged with battery.

Henry Brandon and Linda Brandon were released after each posted a $52 cash bond. Everett was freed upon posting a $104 cash bond.

A third vehicle may have incurred damage during the parking lot showdown, police said Tuesday.

STEAL FOUR BICYCLES

Four bicycles with a total value of $372 were stolen from a garage at the home of Kenneth Yeager, 2838 Palmer Ave.

Property owners advised to check 1984 assessments

Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse is advising township property owners to come to his office at 2069 Delmar Ave. (in the basement of the Granite City Hall) and check their 1984 property assessments. Cruse says property owners have until Sept. 18 to file a complaint about their 1984 property assessments.

Cruse notes that once property bills have been mailed, it will be too late for property owners to appeal their assessments. Since the property tax multiplier has increased, he says, some assessments may exceed actual property values.

Taxpayers who consider their property incorrectly assessed may appear before the Madison County Board of Review and file a complaint in writing by Sept. 18.

STOVE, REFRIGERATOR TAKEN FROM RESIDENCE

A representative from the Madison County Housing Authority told police last week that someone removed a stove and a refrigerator from 45 Lee Wright Homes. Police observed cuts in the screens and noted fire windows were open, which could have been where entry was made.

TWO 3-WHEELERS TAKEN

Two motorcycle three-wheelers, valued at $1,000 each, were taken last week from a shed at the Jerry Coyle residence, 4 Shirlewin Drive, Arlington Heights. Police observed cuts in the shed door, which was locked.

Woman charged DUI after hitting train

Marilynn D. Canter, 28, of 1511 Richmond Ave., was injured at 11:30 p.m. Monday when she allegedly rammed her car into the side of a train at the railroad crossing on Niedringhaus Avenue.

Mrs. Canter was lying between the two front seats and appeared to be unconscious when officers arrived at the scene. There was no train on the tracks, but the woman's vehicle had front end damage, police said.

An ambulance was called and while the crew was attempting to remove her from the vehicle, she awakened and became combative, swinging her fist and attempting to kick the ambulance personnel, reports alleged.

Mrs. Canter, whose birthday was Monday, was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she allegedly became belligerent and declined to take a blood alcohol test, reports alleged. She was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

Witnesses alleged that Mrs. Canter's car went around the railroad gates and then stopped for a train that was across the road. The auto was backed up and then went forward, ramming the train.

After hitting the train, the Canter auto backed up, turned, struck a utility pole, left the roadway and came to a stop on top of another set of railroad tracks, witnesses alleged. Reports did not say if the train was moving at the time it was hit.

CAR FIRE IS ATTEMPTED

The Rev. Alfred Johnson of 612 W. Third St., Madison, told police at 9:15 a.m. Sunday that someone tried to burn his 1973 Buick the night before. Officers observed that a small area of the vinyl top was charred and there were several spots on the deck lid that had been scorched.

Robertson appointed as 1984 Campaign Chairman

Eric Robertson, a partner with Lueders, Robertson and Konzen, Attorneys at Law, will serve as the 1984 Tri-Cities Area United Way Campaign Chairman.

The appointment was announced by James Eisenbeis, president of the local United Way organization.

A native of Granite City, Robertson attended Granite City High School and DePaul University. He graduated from St. Louis University School of Law in 1972.

In addition to his professional memberships with the Tri-City Bar Association, Illinois Bar Association and American Bar Association, Robertson is a member of the Board of Directors and Executive Committee of Tri-Cities Area United Way, vice president of the board of directors of Alcoholic Rehabilitation Community Home (ARCH), a member of Granite City School Citizens Advisory Committee, the Elks Lodge and Granite City Optimist Club.

He held the position of assistant city attorney in Granite City from 1973 to 1976 and has served as special assistant attorney general, state of Illinois, since 1976.

Robertson was vice-chairman of the United Way Campaign in 1983 and formerly headed the Professional Division in the fund-raising campaign to support 16 area social service agencies.

In announcing the appointment, Eisenbeis said, "We are pleased Eric Robertson has accepted the position as the campaign chairman and are impressed with the enthusiasm and dedication he has demonstrated in organizing this campaign. Eric's association with many business, civic and governmental organizations in our community is a valuable asset in his role as 1984 campaign leader."

Antique Auto and Sports Car meet Sept. 8 in Springfield

The 33rd annual Antique Auto and Sports Car Meet, to be conducted Saturday, Sept. 8, at the Mum Opera site at Lake Springfield in Springfield, Ill., will include a special award for Cadillac vehicles, according to Secretary of State Jim Edgar.

"Each year we honor an automobile manufacturer with the special Marquis award," Edgar said. "This year, all Cadillac vehicles entered in the meet will be eligible to compete for the Marquis award."

"Whether it's vintage automobiles dating back to the early 1900's, or the sports models, there is something at the show for everyone to enjoy," Edgar said. "At the same time, the meet raises money for a good cause."

Edgar said that gate receipts from the Antique Auto and Sports Car Meet, which includes a flea market and swap meet, will go to the Illinois affiliate of the American Heart Association.

Awards will be presented to five division winners, as well as first, second and third place winners in 46 classes. Last year, there were 265 automobiles entered in the meet.

Information on how to enter the 33rd annual Antique Auto and Sports Car Meet, Swap Meet and Flea Market is available from the Secretary of State's office, 131 Centennial Building, Springfield, Ill. 62766.

FLEEING DRIVER LEAVES AUTO, ESCAPES ON FOOT

A motorist who passed four red traffic lights and twice ran into curbing abandoned a 1973 auto at Sixth Street and McCambridge Avenue, Madison, and escaped on foot late last week. His owner no longer lives in Collinsville, and the ignition had been punched out, enabling it to be driven without a key.

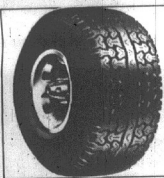

Police initially sought to halt the car in the 3000 block of Nameski Road upon hearing a loud muffler. Pursued by squad cars followed along Nameski and then Edwardsville Road to McCambridge. Two officers chased the man as he ran eastward but lost him in an alley between Fifth and Sixth streets. He is thin, 5-8 in height, with dark brown hair.

Michael Pierce as state master councilor.

Friday morning was the first business meeting at the University Union for the DeMolays with separate meetings for advisors, mothers and sweethearts and their chapters. The afternoon was open to athletics, electronic games and swimming. The western barbecue and western band, Friday evening, was moved into the University Union because of rain. Among those participating in the all fun "Gong" show was Job's Daughters from the local Bethel 43 and the 14 chapter sweethearts (competing for the honor of Illinois DeMolay Sweetheart) including Beth Bodnam as the Granite City chapter's sweetheart.

Saturday morning the second business session was conducted and the 1984-85 DeMolay state officers were elected, the Illinois DeMolay state sweetheart balloted on and Mary Kay had a cosmetic party for the sweetheart candidates, their chaperons, Job's Daughters and Rainbow Girls. Saturday afternoon was unstructured with Western Hall's olympic size swimming pool open for all who attended.

YMCA offers program for before and after school

The Tri-City Area YMCA has developed a new program called the Before and After School Care Day Care Program. This program enables parents to drop their children off at the YMCA on their way to work, and pick them up at the "Y" on their way home. The YMCA has purchased a new bus which will deliver children to their school in the mornings and pick them up at the schools in the afternoons. The program will provide healthful game activities.

The before-school care will begin at 7 a.m. daily, and the after-school care operates from school dismissal time to 6 p.m. This program coordinates with the public school calendar. The before and after school program will begin Tuesday, Sept. 4. Individuals may sign up for one or both sessions (before and after school). The cost is $10 a week for the before school and $12 for the after school program, or $22 for both sessions for YMCA members. For non-members, the cost is $15 before school and $18 for after school, or $33 for both sessions per week. Parents should register children one week in advance.

With the closing of the YMCA residence hall, the "Y" will be able to provide more youth programs. The before and after school program is designed for the working parent. This program can ease parents' minds by knowing their children are well-supervised and having fun at the same time. Transportation will be furnished by the YMCA to and from school. Parents are reminded to pick their children up by 6 p.m.

For further information, parents may contact the YMCA at 876-7200.

GC school strike

Melton disagreed, saying many have expressed interest in dealing with the total revenue problem at one time, rather than a "piecemeal" approach.

Melton questioned why bonds would not be marketable, since they are tied to real estate taxes. Lindberg said bond buyers have no assurance a governmental entity will exist, since the state government has power to terminate it.

LINDBERG'S FORMER employer, Dougherty, Dawkins, Strand and Yost, a Minneapolis investment banking firm, bought $5 million in District Nine tax anticipation notes at 10.75 percent interest July 1, maturing Jan. 1, 1986.

To make the notes possible, the district transferred funds to retire $13.5 million in second-year tax anticipation warrants but still owed $6.1 million in first-year warrants.

The nearly destitute district must $625,336 of its summer 1984 payroll by issuing teacher orders, at an annual interest rate of 9.5 percent.

THIS YEAR'S total interest cost of $90,410 for education fund loans is expected to include $68,848 interest on the anticipation notes and $24,162 interest on anticipation warrants.

Warrant interest payments in 1983-84 amounted to $775,000. Attending at the board's request, Lindberg outlined potential 1984-85 and 1985-86 cash flow. His written presentation was not released but he verbally referred to portions of it.

"THERE IS MONEY in the bank" now but the pattern of fall and winter receipts and expenditures indicates serious operating problems may arise in 1985, with only $1,912 likely to be on hand in January, the board was told. August 1985 also may be a particularly difficult time, a discussion showed.

The amended 1984-85 budget adopted tentatively Aug. 21 shows a $512,535 shortfall in the education fund, in addition to existing debt. A public hearing is to be conducted Sept. 25.

In the meantime, ways to eliminate the shortfall are being studied by school administrators led to Wilson Park to disassemble. The parade committee has chosen Jaclyn Greer as Labor Day Queen to lead the parade. She is currently the Granite City Junior Miss and Miss Collinsville. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Greer of Rural Route 1, and her father is a member of Local Union 30 at Granite City Steel.

REGION 1 Director Jim Freeman has been selected as the parade's grand marshal.

The parade committee has approved the purchase of trophies to be awarded to the float with the best theme, the best marching unit and for the best percentage of participation by a labor organization.

At the conclusion of the parade, a tug-of-war will take place between several labor locals, with trophies awarded for the best team.

Births

Births recorded at St. Elizabeth Medical Center include:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gaughan, 2432 Benton St., Aug. 26, Crystal Ruchelle, 5 pounds, 11 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. James Graham, 1504 Kirkpatrick Homes, Aug. 26, Crystal Marie, 5 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Myer, Ed Welsch, 404, 26, Miranda Beth, 6 pounds, 3 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Six, 2912 Buxton Ave., Aug. 28, Nina Lee, 6 pounds, 11 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lyday, MI. Vernon, III, Aug. 26, Michael James Jr., 7 pounds, 3 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Koertge, Troy, Aug. 27, twins, Christopher Ray, 7 pounds, 15 ounces, and Benjamin Charles, 7 pounds, 15 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wayne Jr., 2161 Lee Ave., Aug. 28, Charles Anthony, 6 pounds, 1 ounce.

Births recorded at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital, Maryville, include:

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Buford, Granite City, Aug. 3, a boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Eichenauer, Granite City, Aug. 6, a boy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pratt, Granite City, Aug. 7, a boy.

by/Supt. of Schools Frank Kraus.

ON A MODIFIED accrual basis, which is the system used in the district's budget process, the overall shortfall for the current year is shown as $798,310, assuming no continuing projects.

Although the November 1984 ballot will ask for $6.6 million bond authorization, an assessment reduction of $8,984,186 has effectively reduced the actual yield to $6.5 million, Lindberg reported.

Funding bonds can be issued to meet the teacher payroll for to pay bills but they are subject to an election if voters ask for a referendum within 30 days of authorization, he said.

LIFE SAFETY CODE bonds were mentioned as another possibility, with proceeds devoted to building remodeling projects that improve the safety of schools.

Melton appealed for creative thinking as the district attempts to pin an adequate revenue, a bearable tax burden and an acceptable level of employee benefits.

The board met in open session from 7:30 to 8:30, in executive session from 8:30 to 11:55, and in open session from 11:55 to midnight.

Although there was no discussion in the public meeting of the progress of pay talks, officials indicated Tuesday they have not rejected the idea of a 1984-85 pay freeze and, in fact, have advocated it.

Local 743 Pres. Shirley Stoll said Monday that the teachers proposed a freeze Sunday night but could not get board approval.

A BOARD STATEMENT that day said "several issues remain to be agreed upon and not felt agreement might be possible after Tuesday night's (Aug. 28) board meeting. The board's term, therefore, requested that the strike not begin before then. The union rejected this suggestion."

Negotiators say informally that the union tied the freeze proposal to a guaranteed raise for 1985-86.

Supt. Kraus commented, "We believe teachers deserve a pay increase, but we don't have the money. We can't guarantee something for next year when we don't even know how we are going to get through this year."

Local 743 Pres. Shirley Stoll said Monday that the teachers proposed a freeze Sunday night but could not get board approval.

A BOARD STATEMENT that day said "several issues remain to be agreed upon and not felt agreement might be possible after Tuesday night's (Aug. 28) board meeting. The board's term, therefore, requested that the strike not begin before then. The union rejected this suggestion."

Negotiators say informally that the union tied the freeze proposal to a guaranteed raise for 1985-86.

Venice Park Board to issue water slide bonds

The Venice Park Board has called a special meeting for 11 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 1, at the Venice Recreation Center to consider an ordinance authorizing the sale of bonds for construction of a water slide and related facilities in Lee Park.

Since bonds used to finance the construction of the Venice Recreation Center are expiring, the approximately 10 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for the recreation center will offset much of the cost of the bond issue for the water slide.

Taxpayers approved a referendum April 12, 1983, authorizing the park board to issue $200,000 in bonds for the water slide, combined bathroom and concession building and adult bumper boat area. The tax rate is estimated at 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation. With the repayment of the recreation center bonds, taxpayers should see only about a five-cent increase in their park tax rate for the improvements. It is estimated that the bonds will cost $11.24 a year for a taxpayer owning a $22,500 house with an assessed valuation of $7,500. Of that sum, the homeowner has been paying $7.50 to repay the recreation center bonds, so the annual tax would pay only $3.75.

The bond issue also will finance improvements of the tennis courts, playground area and ballpark diamond and a general upgrading of Lee Park.

Faurot's MU list should include GC greats

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

Say it isn't so, Don. Don Faurot, legendary and all-time great coach of the Missouri University Tigers' football team for almost 40 years, has, at long last, "picked" his All-Time Missouri football team.

Faurot's "picks" is featured in the August 17 edition of the Missouri RAH, the official University of Missouri-Columbia Athletic Magazine, which is now "in the mail" and on sale at newsstands.

Managing editor of Missouri RAH is an old friend and tennis opponent, Bob Enig, who was second in command to Arnold Irish at the late and lamented St. Louis Journal and brilliant graduate of SIU-Edwardsville. Irish is now covering soccer for the Post-Dispatch.

What disappointed me in the coach's "picks" was the fact that he didn't choose a player from this section of Illinois, and three in particular from the Quad-City area.

All his "picks," of course, didn't play for him. He picked his squad from his 60 years as coach, athletic director and, of course, as a player for the Tigers.

Faurot took over the Tiger grid-ers in perhaps the darkest days of Missouri University football, quarterback at Notre Dame was thrust into the position right out of South Bend at the beginning of the Great Depression.

It was really bad there around 1933 or '34. Some games during that time in one, when Cardillo and his Tigers "drew" less than 500 fans to the stadium. The stadium at that time, could seat just a little more than 28,000. Now, the newly named Faurot Field seats 70,000 fans.

Three local football players which should have, at the very least, received an honorable mention listing from Faurot were Lawrence McCauley, John Tarpoff and Clyde Nelson, all soldiers in the trenches on both defense and offense.

The trio played for Granite City High School under the coaching of Bryan Bozarth. McCauley played three years in the late twenties. Nelson, lettering all three years he was eligible, graduated in January of 1940. He built himself an illustrious career as an engineer for Frue-Cohn Contracting Company of St. Louis. His is now deceased. He played both tackle and end on the left side.

The third member of the trio who I think should have made Faurot's All-Time great squad, was the already mentioned John Tarpoff, who just recently passed on. He was a great favorite of Faurot and rarely missed a Missouri game if played anywhere in the Midwest.

Of course, the trio of players at Missouri played "both ways," on defense and offense.

Here's Faurot's MU All-Stars:

QUARTERBACKS—Paul

Christman ('38-'40), Phil Bradley

('37-'39), Terry McMillan ('48-'49), 1980-'83; Howard Richards, 1977-'80.

DEFENSIVE ENDS—B111

Rowekamp, 1952; Danny LaRose,

1958-'60; Conrad Hitchler, 1960-'62;

Bobby Bell, 1981-'83.

DEFENSIVE INTERIOR

LINE—Kenny Haas, 1957-'59; Bob

Brenton, 1940-'41; Ed Blaine, 1959-'61;

Jay (Rocky) Wallace, 1967-'68, and

'70.

DEFENSIVE BACKS—Johnny

Roland, 1962, '64-'65; Roger Wehrli,

1966-'68; Bob Schoemaker, 1951-'53;

Ed Merrifield, 1951-'53.

PUNTERS—Jeff Brockhaus, 1977-'80;

Steve Kenemore, 1967-'69; Ray

PLACEMENTS—Greg Hill,

Cougars debut this weekend

EDWARDSVILLE — The 1984 edition of the soccer Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will take off the practice gear and put on their game faces for the first time Saturday as they travel to Cape Girardeau, Mo. for a 7:30 p.m. contest against the Indians of Southeast Missouri State University.

The Cougars, who will begin their 18th season under Head Coach Bob Guetker, will also make their 1984 home debut this Labor Day weekend as they entertain the Redbirds of Illinois State University in a 7:30 p.m. contest Tuesday at Cougar Field.

Saturday's contest against SEMO will mark the second consecutive game between these two teams. Last year, the Cougars ended their 10-6-2 season with a 2-1 victory over the Indians. SENSI goalkeeper Greg Powderly, a senior from Granite City who last year set a Cougar Field record by recording 21 saves, is expected to be in the nets for the Indians. The Cougars are expected to counter with senior Dave Cappella, who allowed just 1.22 goals per game in 1983.

Tuesday, against Illinois State, the Cougars will be hoping to make it three in a row over Redbirds. In their brief two-game series, the Cougars defeated the Redbirds 9-1 in 1982 and 2-0, last year in Normal.

The Cougars will also have a couple of other goals on their minds as they begin play in Cape Girardeau. After failing to reach the NCAA Division I Tournament for the first time in history, the Cougars will be hoping to begin another string of berths into the post-season tournament in 1984.

The Cougars will also be hoping to put another feather in Guetker's cap as he begins his 26th year as a head coach, just 10 wins shy of becoming the third coach in collegiate soccer history to win 300 games.

Collins selected as GCC's AD

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — As Granite City Center's soccer and volleyball teams prepare for their fall campaigns which begin in the coming weeks, they will not have to begin the season not knowing who their athletic director will be.

Terry Collins, who in June was hired by GCC Provost and Athletic Director Dr. Frank Gorman, to succeed Larry Graham as the Stars' basketball coach, has been appointed as athletic director in addition to his basketball duties, the Press-Record has learned.

GORMAN resigned his GCC positions last month to accept the director of student services (dean of students) job at Bakersfield Community College in Bakersfield, Calif. Assessing his new position recently, Collins said he's now looking forward not only to coaching the Stars' basketball team, but the added challenges of athletic director as well.

"I envision my position here as being one of bringing good student athletes here while simultaneously developing first-class programs," Collins said. "My job as AD, too, will be made a lot easier by the quality coaches that we have here. Larry (Patrol, soccer coach), Walt (Whitaker, wrestling coach), and Clabbe (Briggs, volleyball coach) are fine, quality people as well as excellent coaches. Having good coaches always makes an athletic director's job much easier."

Before coming to GCC in the spring, Collins was a counselor at In-carnate Academy in St. Louis, an all-girls high school, and assistant basketball coach at Washington University in St. Louis.

A 1972 graduate of Pater Noster High School in Los Angeles, Cal., Collins played guard on his high school basketball team.

He didn't play college basketball, and instead concentrated his energy on academics and graduated Magna Cum Laude from Occidental College in 1975 with a BA in history. Two years later he received his teaching credentials from Cal Poly Pomona.

MOST RECENTLY, Collins completed his master's degree of Sports Science at the United States Sports Academy in Mobile, Ala. Collins completed the requirements for his master's as recently as last month.

As athletic director, Collins' duties begin immediately. As the Stars' basketball coach, he'll take to the hardwood Nov. 17 as GCC open against Lincolnland College of Springfield.

Tate doubles up for L&CCC sports

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GODFREY — Sam Tate, a 1984 graduate of Granite City High School, has decided to attend Lewis and Clark Community College this fall.

Tate's decision to attend L&CCC is not so much a surprise. It's been known that Scott Posey, Lewis and Clark's baseball coach, has been interested in signing the right-handed hurler Tate.

But what is a surprise, is that Tate, who was expected to play fall and spring baseball for Posey, has not only earned a spot on Ed Huneke's soccer squad, but, as a walk-on, been offered a soccer scholarship as well.

So, in essence, Tate has been touted by two L&CCC coaches each offering scholarships, or tuition waivers as they are referred in the JuCo ranks. And, although he has decided to accept the soccer scholarship, he will represent the Bucks on both the soccer and baseball fields during the 1984-85 academic year.

Tate, who will enter the junior college competition this fall just 17, was the hurling ace of Granite City High's baseball team last spring as well as Tri-City American Legion's baseball team's winning pitcher this summer.

As a soccer player, Tate helped anchor the Granite City High School defense last year with All-American sweeper back Matt Sheridan.

And, it appears, the backfield is where Tate will find himself this fall on Huneke's squad.

"Sam's shown himself extremely well during the practice sessions," Huneke said Wednesday from his home in St. Louis. "I had a good idea who was going to play here, and quite honestly I wasn't sure if Sam would break into the lineup."

"I talked with (Granite City High School soccer coach) Gene Baker about Sam and got a good report from him, but I thought his major interest was baseball," Huneke said. Huneke said what impressed him most about Tate is his concentration in the backfield and his ability to stop an attacking offense.

"Specifically, I think what impressed me most about Tate is that he's a thinker, his obvious concentration on the field. He plays hard and is a good physical specimen. And, he's very strong in the air. He's walked on right to a starting position," Huneke said.

"The fact that Tate has walked on to L&CCC and been offered a scholarship is impressive enough, but when considering the Bucks' successes in the last few years, it's truly remarkable what he's achieved considering the caliber of talent already on that team."

Last year, the Bucks finished third in the nation. In 1982 Lewis and Clark was second and the year prior to that Huneke's kickers finished fifth.

Posey, who lost Tate to Huneke and soccer this during his fall campaign, still feels like a winner.

"I'm not going to say that I'm glad he's out for soccer this fall, because I would have liked to have him throwing 180 fall, but I guess spring is soon enough," Posey said.

Tate is the son of Ed and Linda Tate of Granite City.

Trenton makes best of its hits; downs Spanky's for Metro crown

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The Trenton Merchants, making the best of five hits to their opponents' 13, defeated the 7-Up/Spunky's 5-3, last night to capture the first Metro East Wednesday League championship here at Hoppe Park.

Twice during the season the Spanky's had defeated Trenton, but in the title game, with most of their key players returned to college, they weren't able to mount a sustained hitting attack although outlasting Trenton.

It was ironic that Spanky's big bat and their ability to crank out home runs when needed was grabbed off by Trenton and shoved down the Spanky's combined throats.

In their half of the fourth, Dan Ritzheimer, former SIUE star, blasted a two-run four-bagger off Spanky's starter, Gerry Gerken and Trenton never looked back.

However, it was still anyone's ball game going into the bottom half of the fifth when J. V. Victorian slammed his second triple of the game and then scored on a wild pitch by winning pitcher, Tim Rakors.

In the top of the fifth, the extreme heat forced Spanky's Gerken to the sidelines and young Pat Clawson, an Edwardsville native who starred last spring for Lewis and Clark, took over the mound duties. He breezed through the first three batters who faced him in the sixth, but the seventh was another story.

Trenton's designated hitter, Phil Schmitt, singled to left. The next batter popped up, but the Merchants' second baseman blasted young Clawson's first offering over the scoreboard in left.

In their half of the ninth, trailing 5-1, the Spanky's bats came alive. Pat Peterson, the team's business manager who had to "suit up" due to six of their regular players returning to college, led off with a single to center.

Dave Veith, an Edwardsville native filling in for one of the absent Spanky college players at third base, hit Raker's first pitch and it began to look like one of their game-winning rallies was in the making. But, without enough players available so that they could use a designated hitter, the 17-year-old Clawson had to bat for himself.

He fanned.

The top of Spanky's lineup was now up. Victorian bunted beautifully down the third base line, and the bases were full. The veteran Jack Scarborough of Granite City, connected for his third straight hit, driving in two runs and bringing the score to 3-3 and with only the one out.

Next up was Spanky's clean-up hitter, catcher Joe Gasaway, who had won five games this season with as many grand-slam homers, was fouted by a high and inside pitch by Rakors and was called out.

Darrel Wehrndt, who returned to the Spanky's lineup after laying out this past summer, was up. He hit the first pitch and it looked there for a split second that the Spanky's had done it again.

But, Tom Ritzheimer, in center, turned at the instant of the crack of Wehrndt's bat and pulled the screaming ball down at the fence.

That catch by Ritzheimer made up for his misjudging of Victorian's leadoff blow which went for a triple in the first frame.

Peterson announced after the game that Spanky's had been invited to play in the annual Brooklyn, Ill., tournament in mid-September.

Kestner named Graham's assistant

EDWARDSVILLE — Rick Kestner, a former NCAA Division III All-American who led Augustana College to third-place finishes in both the 1975 and 1976 National Tournaments, has been named assistant basketball coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to Head Coach Larry Graham.

An honorable mention All-Star when he led Pekin High School to the Illinois Sweet 16 in 1973, Kestner joins the SIUE staff after serving as an assistant coach at Eastern Illinois University last year. Kestner began his coaching career in 1973 as a physical education instructor and head coach at Wyanet Community High School. He then moved to instructor and assistant coach at Lake Park High School.

As a player, Kestner played in four national tournaments. In 1974 he participated in the NAIA Championships in Kansas City, while the following three years he led Augustana to the Division III Tournament. After being selected team captain and most valuable player in 1977, he turned professional and played on the pro circuit in Europe.

A 1977 graduate of Augustana with a Bachelor of Arts degree in physical education, Kestner earned his Master's degree last year at EIU, also in physical education.

GCHS' Memorial Stadium to get $2,000 facelift

It's no secret that the Granite City Unit School District Nine is having more than its fair share of financial difficulties. So many difficulties that school, which was supposed to begin this week, has at last been postponed until Tuesday or later because of a teachers' strike.

Facing the dilemma of a dwindling financial base coupled with the latest dispute with teachers, the least of the district's worries is the deteriorating condition of Memorial Stadium.

But late last week, Memorial Stadium was just where two of the district's officers were. Sure, there were a lot of other pressing items which demanded their attention, but these two — Frank Kraus, interim superintendent, and Kelly Hogan, board member — managed to break away from their duties to discuss the refurbishing of Memorial Stadium.

Refurbishing? Memorial Stadium?!

Before it becomes an issue in what can be termed an already tumultuous situation, let me say this about the stadium's refurbishing: Memorial Stadium is being refurbished by volunteers and it's NOT costing the taxpayers a thing.

Coupled with local businessmen who are donating some of their resources, the Granite City High Boosters are doing most of the refurbishing.

The repairs, which consist primarily of painting some fences and other fence posts, the press box, concession and rest room areas and weeding the stadium, will cost an estimated $2,000.

Although the stadium has received bleacher planks as recently as last May just prior to graduation ceremonies, the last time the stadium received such attention was four years ago when the press box and concession area received a fresh coat of paint.

Plans for the refurbishing include painting much of the stadium in red and black, the Warriors' colors. According to the planned color scheme, the press box, concession stand and restrooms will be painted white and trimmed in red and black.

The bleachers will be painted black while the railings are tentatively planned to be painted in red. Also receiving black paint will be the fences within the stadium — the fences along the track in front of the bleachers.

"We've been telling these kids about attitude and

Sports on the Run

By Al Gerstenacker

taking pride in their school," said Warrior Varsity Football Coach Ron Yates. "We're trying to rebuild a program here, and this should help us achieve that goal. It means a lot for these kids to play in a stadium that looks nice."

"Some kids get the opportunity to play in Busch Stadium. For them this will nearly be the same thing."

The Boosters, perhaps the one single most influential force in helping Yates achieve his goal in improving GCHS' attitude about football, have come across again with another morale lifter.

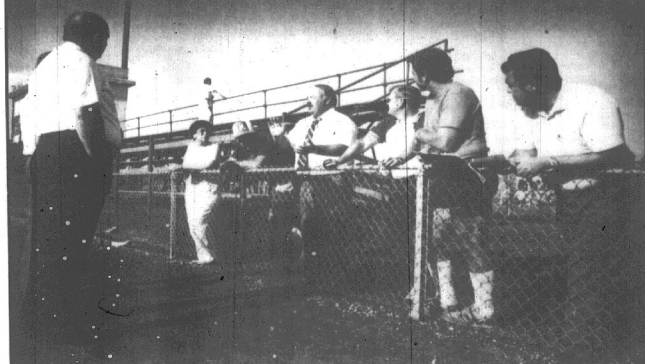

At a recent board meeting, the boosters with the help of a local businessman who prefers to remain anonymous, have arranged for the Warrior football team to attend the Saturday, Sept. 22, football game between the Salukis of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, home of the 1983 Division I-AA National Champions, and Arkansas State.

The Boosters have furnished 100 reserved seats and two buses for the trip. Cost of the trip is estimated at $1,150.

"This is the kind of help our program here needs," Yates said of the latest Booster Club's offer. "This will give our kids the opportunity to see a national championship football team. It will certainly do a lot for the kids."

One final note on the college football game. Superintendent Kraus is an SIUC alumnus. When he learned that the Warrior football team would attend the SIUC vs. Arkansas State game, one of his comments was, "And, we're going to win this time."

Kraus was a lineman for the Salukis.

Stadium Run slated for Sept. 22

ST. LOUIS — More than 4,000 runners from throughout the region are expected to bring out their best at the sixth annual Stadium Run, set for 11 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 22.

The unique, 6.2-mile run through downtown St. Louis is a staggered-start or handicapped race that begins outside Busch Stadium, and finishes inside on the playing field just prior to the Cards' game against the Chicago Cubs. A head start is given to runners in half minute increments depending on their age and sex. Time handicaps are based on a national handicap system.

Besides Ladue's Polly Peacock, 40, winner of the last three Stadium Runs, who finished last year's race in a time of 28 minutes, 11 seconds (based on her 9 1/2-minute handicap start) — other runners who are among the favorites include 11-year-old Ben Davis of Manchester, who finished second (29:47) in the 1983 Stadium Run, Walter Bauer, 59, of University City, who finished third last year (30:12), and second in 1982, and Columbia's Whitney Hicks, 48, who finished fourth last year in 30:41.

To enter, runners should send an entry form and $5 to the Stadium Run, c/o St. Louis Track Club, P.O. Box 2956, University City, Mo. 63130. Registration information is also available at the St. Louis Track Club Office, 6611 Clayton Road, or by calling 314/862-SLTC or 727-SLTC. Entry forms for the Stadium Run are also available at the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals' offices at 250 Stadium Plaza downtown, and at many sporting goods outlets in the greater St. Louis area.

Each runner participating in the Stadium Run receives a coupon good for one free general admission ticket, or one-half off the price of a reserved seat (subject to prior sale), for the Cardinals' game that day, or standing room if all seats are sold; and a Stadium Run T-shirt, running number and race instructions. Stadium Run plaques will be presented to the top 150 finishers in the race.

A portion of each runner's entry fee for the Stadium Run will be donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Over the past five years, the Stadium Run has raised more than $20,000 for MDA.

The Stadium Run is being sponsored by Bud Light beer, a product of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., Busch Stadium, the St. Louis Cardinal and the St. Louis Track Club.

Additional information on the Stadium Run is available by calling 314/862-SLTC, or 314/727-SLTC.

New GC Ducks Unlimited chapter plans fund-raising banquet Sept. 13

According to Tony J. Zedolek, chairman of the newly organized Granite City Ducks Unlimited committee, persons from Granite City and surrounding areas interested in participating in a practical conservation program will be given an opportunity to do so come this fall.

As a local representative for the international waterfowl conservation organization Zedolek said, "When it comes to conservation, there are a lot of good people out there with good intentions who would really like to make a positive difference in how wildlife is perpetuated on this continent, but just don't know how to go about it."

Zedolek went on to say that he volunteered to help raise funds for Ducks Unlimited because of the organization's impressive habitat track record. Since 1957, Zedolek said, this private, nonprofit organization has constructed more than 2,100 wetland projects throughout Canada, a country where over 70 percent of North America's ducks and geese are produced and where Federal Duck Stamp dollars can't be spent. As a result, Ducks Unlimited has reserved more than 3 million habitat acres and created more than 13,000 miles of crucial nesting shoreline for the waterfowl.

Concluding his remarks about the importance of DU's conservation effort Zedolek stated, "Our committee will soon be calling on conservation-minded individuals within the community to help support our DU fund-raising banquet scheduled for Sept. 13 at the Granite City Knights of Columbus Hall. We're going to have a lot of good food, good prizes and good fund for everyone, and those who attend can rest assured the dollars we raise are going to a very good cause."

Tickets for the banquet are available at Lane's Archery, 1837 Delmar or from Vernon Lockridge at National Auto Parts, 19th and Madison Avenue, or from Zedolek.

Persons seeking further information about the banquet or Ducks Unlimited may contact Zedolek at 877-2458.

The fee includes a team schedule with two umpires and an official scorekeeper for each game. Games will be played on Saturdays and Sundays beginning Sept. 15 and scheduled to finish on Oct. 20.

Rosters will not be given out until the full amount of the entry fee has been paid. The fee for any player who does not live in the park district will be $17.50 per player. All rosters will be audited before the teams are allowed to compete.

For more information, persons should contact John Lakin, recreation supervisor, at 877-3059.

September 25, 30, 27.

Rocky Mountain Catch

For Revenue Advise ment

State Duck Stamp committee formed

SPRINGFIELD — Governor James T. Thompson has signed legislation to create a State Migratory Waterfowl Stamp Fund and State Duck Stamp Committee to advise the Department of Conservation on how the Fund should be spent.

"This legislation will provide the people who actually generate the money for this new Waterfowl Stamp Fund to have a greater voice in how it is spent," the Governor said.

"These sportsmen and women and representatives of waterfowl groups have both the knowledge and interest in migratory waterfowl to ensure the selection of projects which will continue the stabilization of our waterfowl populations," he said.

House bill 2261 provides that all fees derived solely from the sale of Migratory Waterfowl Stamps will be deposited in the newly established State Migratory waterfowl Stamp Fund.

Half the Fund's revenues will be used for projects, approved by the Department of Conservation, to attract waterfowl and improve migratory waterfowl areas in Illinois. The other half will be allocated to nonprofit organizations for the development of waterfowl propagation areas in the United States and Canada which support waterfowl for the Mississippi Flyway.

Under the new law, all interest accrued from deposits in the Migratory Waterfowl Stamp Fund, the Salmon Fund and the Wildlife and Fish Fund will remain in those funds respectively instead of being deposited in the General Revenue Fund.

WORD OF LIFE TABERNACLE

12th and Meridian

Henry Crippen, Pastor

Isaiah 45:16 . . . "O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river."

Once we have experienced the peace of God we are never the same again. Trying to explain it's next to impossible. It's knowing God loves you, that He cares and understands you, it is a contentment in you inner most being. It is peace that passes understanding.

One thing is certain, we know when we have it and we know when we don't. No, our circumstances may not change. The storms of life still rage against us, but the peace of God can still be there.

It is in our power to increase that peace. Just by living in obedience to God's commandments. That's right. When we hearken to God and His work, our peace becomes as a river within us. Obedience is better than sacrifice.

Listen to God. Obey God. And He will give you peace.

Church Women announce autumn events

NEW STEEPLE ERECTED. Workers line up a new steeple being erected at the Second Baptist Church, 2100 Illinois Ave., Tuesday morning as a crane lowers it in place. The project is part of the church's 60th anniversary observance. Workers attempted to erect the steeple last week, but were unable to complete the installation due to technical problems. A large cross was later placed atop the steeple which now stands about 70 feet above street level. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

Mrs. Ola J. Jones, president, said the affair will be a showcase of talent and dedication of various choirs and groups from area churches. The purpose is to tell the United Way story to Quad-City residents who wish to hear a diverse program of music presented by the churches, she added.

The Fall Forum is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 13, at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 3101 Cleveland Blvd., with registration to begin at 9:30 a.m. The forum program, lasting until 2:30 p.m., will focus on learning to use leisure time, according to

The program, entitled "Adult Leisure-Continuing to Learn," is prepared by Homemakers Extension

University of Illinois, and offers an opportunity to members to participate in ongoing educational events.

Members of the nominating committee include Betty Tester, chairman, and Florence Simpson and Arlene Brinkmeyer.

Ronald Ebrecht to play in Bordeaux

Former Granite City resident Ronald Ebrecht, a widely acclaimed organist, will be the first international artist to perform on the four manual, 76-stop organ at the Bordeaux Cathedral of St. Andre in Bordeaux, France.

During the coming season, he will also present recitals in San Francisco, Texas, Hawaii, Maine, Connecticut and New York before returning to France at the end of next summer.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ebrecht, 2629 E. 27th St., the musician travels thousands of miles each year, sharing his musical talent with people in other places.

He assumed a position in Meriden, Conn., at St. Rose Church four years ago, and has since added many milestones to his career, including a performance on the historic Appleton organ of the Metropolitan Museum, which evoked a laudatory New York Times review.

Ebrecht has received favorable reviews for his performances in Meriden as well as at the Metropolitan concert and performances before capacity audiences at Choate and St. Rose.

However, there has been no audience yet to surpass the 4,000-plus people who attended his 1976 European debut at Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris, France.

The talented Ebrecht graduated from Granite City High School in 1971 and received a bachelor degree from Southern Methodist University at Dallas, Texas in 1975. He earned a master's degree at Yale University in 1977. He also studied two years in Paris.

Watermelon festival set at Nameoki Presbyterian

A "Get-Acquainted Watermelon Festival" for members of area Presbyterian church sessions and their spouses will be hosted by the Nameoki Presbyterian Church Session at 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 2.

The session is the decision and policy making body of the Presbyterian congregation, the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor of the host church, explained.

Planning to attend Sunday's festival are session members and spouses from the Mitchell, Madison, First and Nameoki Presbyterian churches.

A "cooperative parish" program involving the four Presbyterian churches of the Quad-City area currently is under discussion by the individual sessions.

Some shared ministries and programs are envisioned and the effectiveness of the community outreach efforts would be strengthened by such an approach, a spokesman explained.

"We believe we can better serve the friends and members of our congregations by sharing programs and services in a cooperative manner," Pastor Pierson said.

A large contingent from the Nameoki Presbyterian Church is expected to attend the Jubilee Reunion Celebration Sunday, Oct. 7, when the merging of the presbyteries of the "southern" and "northern" churches will be observed with a massed choir, bagpipe procession, banners and other festive features.

Morning worship services are held each Sunday at 10:15 a.m. at Nameoki Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road. Bible School and the coffee hour start at 9 a.m. Sunday.

New personnel at GCC help students achieve goals

Two new faculty members at Granite City Center (GCC) are hoping to help send students in the right direction.

Ray Modrell has been named the director of student development and counseling and Dr. Harold Johnson has been named director of instruction at the center. Both men combined have 21 years of experience with the college.

MODRELL, 34, of Freeburg, Ill., formerly served as a director of student activities at Belleville Area College for seven years and then as a counselor for three years.

"It's a pleasure to be working in Granite City," said Modrell. "I think that the shoring up of the staff will add to the already excellent quality of service to the community. We still have a long way to go at the center, but now that we have more hands (personnel), we'll be able to delegate the workload in a better manner."

MODRELL HAS A bachelor of arts degree in business administration and a master's degree in student personnel services in higher education and counseling.

Before coming to the BAC, Modrell served as a residence hall director at McAllister College in St. Paul, Minn.

Modrell's duties include overseeing registration, financial aid, student work programs, recruiting, counseling and student activities.

Another new face at GCC this fall is Harold Johnson, who will be serving as director of instruction at the school.

JOHNSON, 43, is a resident of Belleville. He started his career at BAC as a full-time instructor of administration of justice in 1973.

He later served as the director of the BAC Police Academy. Johnson's experiences include a four-year stint in the U.S. Marine Corps in the tactical air command center and eight years of service with the St. Louis Police Department. While on the police department, Johnson was a detective, conducting investigations of felonies.

HE HAS SEVERAL degrees, including an associate degree in law enforcement from Forest Park Community College; a bachelor's degree in administration of justice from University of Missouri—St. Louis, where he graduated magna cum laude; dual master's degrees in human relations and administration of justice from Webster College; and a doctorate degree in education from St. Louis University.

According to Johnson, his duties at GCC will be to make sure that the instruction at the school is of a high quality. It will include evaluation of the teachers at the center and investigating complaints against teachers.

"I'm thoroughly enjoying my work here," said Johnson. "It's been

Adult orientation helps to get students prepared for classes

Taking that first college class at Granite City Center can be a little scary, especially if you have been out of school for years. GCC of Belleville Area College helped adult students coming to classes at the center with a special adult orientation session last week.

The response was overwhelming. Approximately 75 students showed up at the orientation in the center's cafeteria, 4950 Maryville Road.

THE STUDENTS met academic advisors, instructors, members of the school's administration and office personnel.

Roberta Wolf, a graduate of BAC's GED program and a student at BAC, was the guest speaker. She said she understands how the adult students feel. "It's really exciting and it's kind of hard to get this far, isn't it?" she said. "When I finally decided to go back, I don't know what I thought. I guess I thought I could just go in there, say I want to be a nurse and they would point me to a classroom and that would be it."

"Well, I went to a counselor and he started asking me these questions, like what is a credit hour or a prerequisite. I just kept saying I don't know. I thought, 'He must think he has a real idea here.'" quite an experience so far. "I GUESS I JUST enjoy people. And watching people going through the learning process is especially exciting. You watch them set goals for themselves and then achieve them. You know what they do here will affect their lives."

"The staff here is also to be commended because they are some of the hardest working people I've ever seen. They are thoroughly dedicated and totally committed to the students." Among Johnson's other interests are camping and laparoscopic surgery. He also serves on police hiring boards in Fairview Heights and Monroe County.

"THEN HE STARTED asking me about what (classes) I already had. Well, I wasn't too proud of what I had in high school and all I had was my GED from BAC."

Mrs. Wolf said she had her doubts about going back to college. "I would have been safer staying home and doing dishes and staying at my job," she said. "I'll never forget those first few days in class. I thought, 'Man, I don't belong here.'"

"I had an algebra and a biology class first semester. That first algebra class—I went in there and he handed out the assignments and it started at Chapter 8. Well, I had been looking at those first few chapters and I thought I knew some of that. He was skipping everything I knew."

"I WENT RIGHT to the counselor's office about to cry. I told him I needed to get into an easier algebra class. He asked me how many I had been to and I said one. He told me to hang in there for a little bit more."

"We didn't have a test in there for five weeks and every time that instructor called on me I didn't know the answer. I don't know who was more surprised when I passed that first test, him or me."

"My biology class was just as bad. I got a C on my first test and that was when I knew I had changed. In high school, a C would have been fine. I wouldn't have to do the material again. But it wasn't fine now. I wanted more."

THOSE EARLY frustrations have paid off for Mrs. Wolf. "It's a lot of fun," she said. "It's changed my whole life and my family's life. My kids have learned a lot, like how to run the washing machine and how to iron."

Being a college student means a lot to her. "I love to say I'm a college student," she told the audience. "I am a waitress and that is a job with a lot of dignity and sometimes I just want to say, 'Hi, my name is Roberta. I am your waitress for this evening and I go to college.'"

Wilbur Trime, acting provost of the center, welcomed the students and told them their college experience would be unique and unlike the high school classes they may remember.

"YOU'LL BE ON your own now," he told them. "You'll have to organize your own time. No one will be standing over you. I hope this year will be a rewarding and meaningful experience."

Rosanna Herren, assistant to the provost, told the students the orientation was a chance for older students to get acquainted with the school before the rush when classes begin.

"The reason for a student orientation is not just for you to get to know each other, but for you to get to know our instructors, administrators and support staff, have some faces to go with the names," she said.

DATA PROCESSING INSTRUCTOR Don Davinroy told them he enjoyed having older students in his classes. "I like having older students in my classes," he said. "You settle down the kids because generally you are paying for your education and they generally are not."

Dean of Instruction Harold Johnson told the students not to be afraid of making the effort. "I would ask you to do one thing," he said. "Don't be afraid to ask us questions. We'll do everything we can do to help you. Stay in school, work hard and believe me, the future is yours."

Coalition announces taxpayer watch campaign

The Coalition for Political Honesty recently announced a statewide campaign to put a taxpayer watch on the activities of the newly enacted Illinois Compensation Review Board.

The Compensation Review Board, a panel of 12 persons to be appointed shortly by legislative leaders, has been given the legal authority to raise the salaries of legislators, judges, statewide elected officials and major cabinet officials, without the General Assembly ever having to take a vote on the issue.

"We intend to monitor every action of this board to make sure it does not become a device to guarantee unjustified pay raises for legislators and other public officials in Illinois," said Patrick Quinn, coalition spokesman.

To ensure that the board is truly representative of Illinois voters, Quinn said the coalition will submit to the legislative leader the names of non-political Illinois taxpayers from all walks of life for consideration as candidates to the board.

Quinn also said that the vote of the board on any compensation matter should be a public, roll call vote, and the board should publish a written report at the end of each session.

Under the law signed by Gov. James R. Thompson on July 11, the recommended salary increases of the board will automatically go into effect, unless a specific motion calling for the rejection of the pay raise is made and supported by a majority of the members of both Houses of the General Assembly.

Quinn said the fact that legislators do not have to vote for a recommended pay raise is a glaring defect of the board. Therefore, the coalition will survey incumbent legislators and all candidates, asking whether they approve or oppose a pay raise and, if opposed, whether they would support a motion on the floor of the General Assembly that the pay raise not be accepted.

Quinn said the coalition will publish the results of its survey before the November general election. The Compensation Review Board's first salary recommendations are due this fall, and any pay raise will be effective Jan. 1 to July 1, 1985.

The World's Fair tax, which was effective from Jan. 1 to July 1, 1984, has not been reimposed by the World's Fair Board of Authority. However, the board does have the power to reimpose the tax - at a rate of one percent of 94 percent of gross receipts.

If the board does not reimpose the World's Fair tax, Cook County hotel and motel operators will be subject to the additional state tax described above.

raises will take effect in January 1985, after the election.

Currently, an Illinois legislator receives a $28,000 annual salary, a $65 per diem allowance, travel expenses, pension contributions from the state and free health insurance. Quinn said the true compensation of a legislator, including salary and benefits, is more than $42,000 a year. According to the Census Bureau, the median yearly income of an Illinois family is $22,746.

Quinn said the results of the coalition's survey will be important because pay raises enacted by the legislature in 1975 and 1978 were voted upon during lameduck sessions when voters did not have a chance to pass judgment on those voting for an increase.

Quinn said the coalition is preparing a statewide petition, referendum and teabag campaign in the event the board and the legislature attempt to grease through pay raises in this lameduck session. In December 1978, the coalition organized a successful campaign in which 40,000 citizens sent teabags to Gov. Thompson protesting pay raises enacted for legislators and executive officials that year. And in 1980 the coalition spearheaded a statewide petition and referendum campaign for the Cutback Amendment, which reduced the size of the Illinois House of Representatives from 177 to 118 members.

Quinn said public hearings on the board's recommendations will reflect the fact that there is no need for legislative pay raises and, particularly since legislators refuse to pass ethics legislation prohibiting double-dipping, conflict of interest voting and political juggling.

"The point of our campaign is to make sure every action of the board is public, open and made known to every taxpayer," Quinn said. "We want to make sure the Compensation Review Board does not become an Automatic Pay Raise Commission."

Anyone interested in more information about the taxpayer campaign can contact the Coalition for Political Honesty, Box 708, Oak Park, Ill. 60303, telephone 312-324-1978.

Voter registration rules are relaxed

Governor James R. Thompson signed legislation late last week to expand the area in which a precinct committeeman or deputy registrar can register voters.

"In expanding the area in which a deputy registrar or precinct committeeman can legally register voters, this legislation continues our efforts to involve all eligible voters in the democratic process and to encourage participation in the most basic of our rights as citizens of a free country - the freedom to vote," the governor said.

Under House Bill 2853, precinct committeemen and deputy registrars will be allowed to register the residents of an entire county or election jurisdiction instead of just the precinct in which the committeeman or registrar lives.

Thompson signed legislation during the 1983 legislative session which extended the same registration jurisdiction to authorized labor union officials and registrars from civic organizations throughout Illinois.

Another section of the bill corrects an oversight in the Election Code. Prior to this legislation, the number of signatures needed on nominating petitions was based on the votes cast during the previous presidential election. Since many small or local parties do not nominate candidates in presidential elections, there was no basis for determining the number of signatures needed by candidates from these small parties during non-presidential election years.

This bill changes the nominating petition system so that small party candidates' petition requirements will be based on the last time that party was on the ballot in an election, whether in a presidential or a non-presidential election year.

The law also redefines voter registration "list" to include computer tape, computer discs or other electronic data processing equipment containing voter information.

BOOK VENICE WOMAN AND TEENAGE GIRLS

Patricia Hibbler, 22, of 175 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor when arrested late last week in the Bellemeade Village Shopping Center parking lot.

A Venice girl, 15, and a 14-year-old Madison girl with Miss Hibbler were charged with misdemeanor theft.

The arrests stemmed from an incident at the Trattler's store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center, where each girl allegedly left the shop wearing a pair of shorts, valued at $22 each, underneath their blue jeans.

Miss Hibbler also was charged with not having a valid driver's license. She was released at 9:30 p.m. Friday after posting a $150 cash bond and pending a court appearance. The girls were released to family members.

Public can help nab marijuana growers

The Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation is very interested in one of the crops for which harvest time is fast approaching.

The crop it is looking for is cannabis, more commonly known as marijuana.

AND THE DCI says it needs some help from the public. Concerned citizens are urged to report suspected marijuana cultivation, DCI agent Randy Rushing says.

A toll-free hotline is provided to make it easier for citizens to report the marijuana crops. The hotline is 1-800-BAIDSTUFF.

The hotline is part of the agency's Operation Cash Crop program, designed to aid in the eradication of domestically produced marijuana.

Last week as the result of an Operation Cash Crop investigation, a Mascoutah man, Randall J. Kehrer, 27, was charged on warrants issued by the St. Clair County state's attorney's office with possession of more than 500 grams of marijuana.

HE WAS also charged with manufacture of more than 500 grams of the drug.

Bond was set at $50,000 by St. Clair County judge Richard Hudlin.

Rushing said the DCI investigation revealed that Kehrer was cultivating marijuana in an 80-by-30-foot plot of his rural Mascoutah residence.

Through a search warrant obtained by the DCI, the plot was found to contain in excess of 500 plants, varying in height from 4 to 10 feet, he said.

DCI agents estimate that the value of the marijuana crop at maturity would be about $100,000.

WITH THE approach of the season for marijuana harvest, the DCI is stepping up its enforcement of the eradication program, Rushing said.

Sen. Danforth hears 'pitch' for second harbor here soon

IMPORTANT VISITOR. U.S. Sen. Jack Danforth toured the Mississippi by boat from Alton to St. Louis Tuesday afternoon. Enroute, he went through Locks 27 at Granite City where he heard a "pitch" from Carl Ruff, general manager of the Tri-City Regional Port, for rapid federal funding of part of the cost of a new harbor north of the current port.

Madison officials consider annexing, developing property

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

The Madison City Council Tuesday night voted to notify taxing bodies that the city is considering annexing 30 to 40 acres south of the Stephen Maeras Industrial Park, Alderman Thomas Gordon told council members that if the land is purchased, it is hoped that it can be designated in an enterprise zone by state officials.

Gordon explained that once designated as an enterprise zone, developers are allowed certain tax benefits for developing the property. He added that he has spoken to several property owners in the area and they seem receptive to the idea.

"The reality of it is, we're a suburb of St. Louis," he commented about the need for development. "That river is not a wall."

In other land acquisition matters, the city council referred to its finance and industrial park committee the possible purchase of 7.7 acres as an extension of the Maeras Industrial Park. That action followed a letter from attorneys representing Southwest Steel Supply Company indicating that all of the concerns about the purchase of 8.8 acres near the park have been resolved. Of that 8.8 acres, the city would purchase 7.7 acres. Gordon said it may be possible to purchase the land with Community Development funds. The attorneys have requested that the city respond as to its intentions regarding the purchase.

The council postponed action on a possible lawsuit regarding two city alleys which allegedly encroach on property owned by Madison Alderman Charles Rockett, 905 Madison St. Alderman William Gushieff, who presided over Tuesday's meeting in the absence of Mayor Mike Sasyk, told the council that he had viewed Rockett's property and "it would seem that the city property is on his property about 12 inches."

Gushieff added that the paved alley which allegedly lies partly on Rockett's property is used for trash pick-ups and by emergency vehicles.

Gushieff asked Rockett what he would like the city to do about the problem. Rockett answered that the city should discuss the matter with his attorney, Nick D. Vassileff. Gushieff responded that he has called Vassileff, and the attorney indicated that "he didn't know what you wanted to do."

Vassileff sent a letter to the council earlier this month asking that the "appropriate authorities" review and discuss the issue with him. "If, however, I have not heard from a representative of the city within 21 days from the date of this letter, I will have no alternative except to file suit to order enforcement of the rights of Mr. Rockett," the letter read.

A new ordinance setting property tax levies for the 1984-85 fiscal year was approved by council Tuesday. The new levy, effective from May 1, 1984, to April 30, 1985, appropriates $159,800 to five designated funds. The police pension fund would receive $25,000, the public library fund $18,000, the liability insurance fund $20,000, the playground and recreation fund $10,000 and the Illinois Municipal Retirement fund $86,000.

Pontoon Board requests housing program extension

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

The Pontoon Beach Village Board Tuesday night learned that its contract for Community Development funds to finance housing rehabilitation expires on Oct. 20. Board members voted to apply for an extension of the contract so that the village may be allowed to continue its housing rehabilitation program until Dec. 31.

Board members also learned that their application to the state for railroad crossing improvements on Lake Drive has been approved. According to Village Clerk Mary Warren, the approval of the application means that federal funds will be provided to pay for 90 percent of the cost to install flashing lights and gates at the railroad crossing on Lake Drive north of Route 162. She estimates the project will cost $150,000, with the village paying $15,000. The federal funds will become available Oct. 1.

In other business, the board accepted a bid from C.D. Peters Construction Company to improve Georgeon Drive and a section of Westgate Drive. C.D. Peters submitted the lowest of two bids with $7,510.

A letter from Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles informed village board members that the 1983 assessed valuation of property in the village is $8,431,234. The Pontoon Beach general fund levy has been set at $42.92 with a tax rate of 25 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, the police protection fund levy is set at $18.50 with a tax rate of .075, and the bonds and interest fund levy is $14.352 with a tax rate of .496.

Pontoon Beach Lionsess chairman Vicky Stevenson sent the board a letter indicating that the Seventh Annual Halloween Parade will be at 2 p.m. Oct. 27 at Central Baptist Church, 3940 Highway 111.

Board member Bob Abel was appointed chairman of the police committee, to fill the vacancy created when Glenn Wilson was appointed board president.

'Cooking a la Heart' classes are offered

By DEBORAH WILLIAMS
St. Elizabeth Medical Center

When placed on a "special diet," many people view it as the end of life as we know it. But adjusting one's food intake does not have to be a traumatic event.

For individuals looking for ways to plan and prepare healthier balanced meals, St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave., is offering a new cooking course entitled, "Cooking a la Heart."

"Although the course is of special interest to heart patients and their families, it also will be very beneficial for those people who are on a restricted diet to lose weight or for medical reasons," said Excy Basuel, a SEMC registered dietitian and course instructor, who added, "The meals we will be preparing are not only low in calories, sodium, fat and cholesterol; but they are very creative and delicious."

The classes will meet every Wednesday, Sept. 12 through Oct. 3, from 7 to 9:30 p.m., in the Stroke Rehabilitation Solarium kitchen located in the 3-Doctors wing of the medical center.

Based on the American Heart Association's dietary recommendations, participants will learn how to: adjust calorie intake, reduce fat, saturated fat and cholesterol intake, shop and read labels correctly, enhance foods, select and prepare fish and seafood specialties, prepare meatless meals, prepare meals for one and prepare foods for special occasions.

The four-week cooking course also will cover basic principles of nutrition, recipe modification, menu planning and food selection and preparation. Recipes will be demonstrated and participants will be able to taste a variety of prepared dishes. Before coming to class, participants should eat a light snack.

Cost for the cooking course is $30 per person, which covers the cost of an apron, a certificate of completion and an information packet, containing old and tested recipes. Enrollment is limited. Deadline for registration is Tuesday, Sept. 4.

For more information, interested persons may call St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 798-3167.

Charge GC man in burglary attempt

Curtis J. DuBoise, 21, of 2112a Benton St., pleaded innocent to a charge of attempted burglary in a court appearance before Associate Judge Norman H. Kinder in Granite City at 4:35 p.m. Monday.

Bond was set at $1,000 cash and a mittimus was issued, with DuBoise transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 5:10 p.m. Monday.

DuBoise allegedly was one of two men caught this week by the owner of the Galaxy General Trade Store, 1826 State St. The second man was released at 11:30 a.m. Monday without being charged.

The owner, Richard Knipple, and his wife were checking the business place and found the rear main door had been kicked open. The door had been nailed shut from the inside due to a recent fire. Entry was not gained because of an iron bar door being chained shut, he explained to police. The business owner went home and obtained some additional chains to further secure the iron door. Upon returning a few minutes later, Knipple saw a man jump off the roof above the rear door. A second man was sitting in the yard drinking a soft drink. Knipple caught the men and his wife summoned police.

Simon plans river cruise from Alton to Chicago

U.S. Rep. Paul Simon (D-Makanda) will travel by boat up the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers from Alton to Chicago over the Labor Day weekend in a campaign swing across the state.

Simon will cruise upriver on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, ending the trip at the Labor Day Parade in Chicago. He will be meeting enroute with supporters and area leaders to stress the role of the state's waterways in economic development, transportation and recreation.

The five-term congressman will depart Alton Lock and Dam 26 Friday afternoon after a riverside rally. Simon, his wife, Jeanne, and their children, Sheila and Martin, will board the Drifter, a 45-foot houseboat. Trailing the Drifter will be a 42-foot cruiser in which reporters from around the country will ride along on the 350-mile trip.

The Simons will take the Drifter northward to Hardin for an early evening stop to greet supporters at the public launch.

LOITERING STATUTE IS INVOKED IN VENICE

Believing one of six people standing in front of the Venice City Hall was handling a small gun during the weekend, officers had the six lie on the ground, but dispersed the group when they failed to find a weapon, reports said.

Windell F. McIntyre, 23, of 101 Venice Homes, Venice, allegedly failed to leave the area, which is marked with a "no loitering" sign, and yelled a taunting remark at the officers. He was arrested and charged with unlawful assembly and disorderly conduct.

McIntyre was released at 12:30 a.m. Sunday after posting a $102 cash bond, pending a Sept. 7 appearance in the Granite City court.
